Schools: All must fight drugs

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Joining in the nationwide all-out fight against drugs, the administration of the Antioch grade school system, Antioch High School and the entire community are problem among minors, even affecting the primary grades, in this fine upper middle-class community.

In the early 1980s, the Antioch News ran a front page interview of leading students that were, at the time, involved with Operation Snowball.

Operation Snowball had students attending regional meetings on handling teenage substance abuse problems, returning to start their own peer groups in local high schools.

These students said that at least 80-90 percent of the students at ACHS had tried or were using drugs or alcohol on an intermittent basis.

They claimed that they thought that some teachers were ignoring obvious drug or alcohol abuse in the classroom.

They added that they were aware of the penalty for abuse being gauged on who a student's parents were.

The administration of the high school never replied to this newspaper story.

Last week, the newspaper received a copy of a letter from a former ACHS student sent to Principal Art Blecke.

The letter accused the administration of refusing to admit that there is a drug/alcohol problem at the school.

The writer claimed that "drug deals were going on in my classes --- all you have to do is open your eyes --- you try, but when you fail you quit."

Bleckle in answer asks, "If this student knew these things were going on, why didn't he or she come to me at the time?"

He added, "We do our best and it would help if those that see things we don't would come forward at the time."

He also asks, "Why do some people think it's only the school's job to fight this problem?"

He and Dist. 34 Supt. Don Skidmore allude to the fact that no one drinks or takes drugs only at school, they do it at home and other places.

Both commend the new community involvement anti-abuse program that has parents, community groups and village boards involved with the schools in fighting the problem.

Antioch Police Lt. Tom Fisher also admits that the schools have a drug alcohol problem, "but not more than any other similar school. One of ACHS's problem is weekend parties, the school has a reputation as a party school. This is the parent's problem."

Both Fisher and Blecke laud the fact that ACHS is the only area high school that spends $100,000 a year in hiring 10 hall monitors that "can be found in any part of the school at anytime," with their eyes and ears open to what's going on.

ACHS has hired Cathy Cratty to head a substance abuse program which is being strongly supported by the village boards of Antioch, Lindenhurst and Lake Villa, as well as community groups from those areas.

Cratty has just received a $50,000 grant to implement new programs and policies, one being that the penalties and treatment for abuse are the same for everyone.

"We have a big problem with the parents of some students. We hear stories of kids smoking marijuana with their parents on weekends," said Bill Herbst, principal of Antioch Upper Grade.

He adds, "We also have some very troubled kids that don't do drugs themselves, but their parents do. Some of our kids are the children of those who started using drugs in the 1970s."

Bleckle says that there are many legal ramifications in the school's handling of abuse problems.

"Just because a kid is acting funny we can't assume they are drunk or on drugs," he says, telling of the time a student passed out in school and the other kids said they saw him take "two green pills."

It turned out that the student had gone into his first diabetic coma and the "green pills" were Tic Tacs.

"Can you imagine what would have happened if we had accused that student of taking drugs," asks Blecke.

The present policy at the high school, if a student is found in possession of drugs for the first time, is to call the parents and the police. The student gets a 10-day suspension and counseling is recommended.

The second time expulsion is recommended.

A student caught selling drugs is immediately expelled.

At the grade school level, substance abuse also calls for calling the parents in and suspension, with repeaters being expelled.

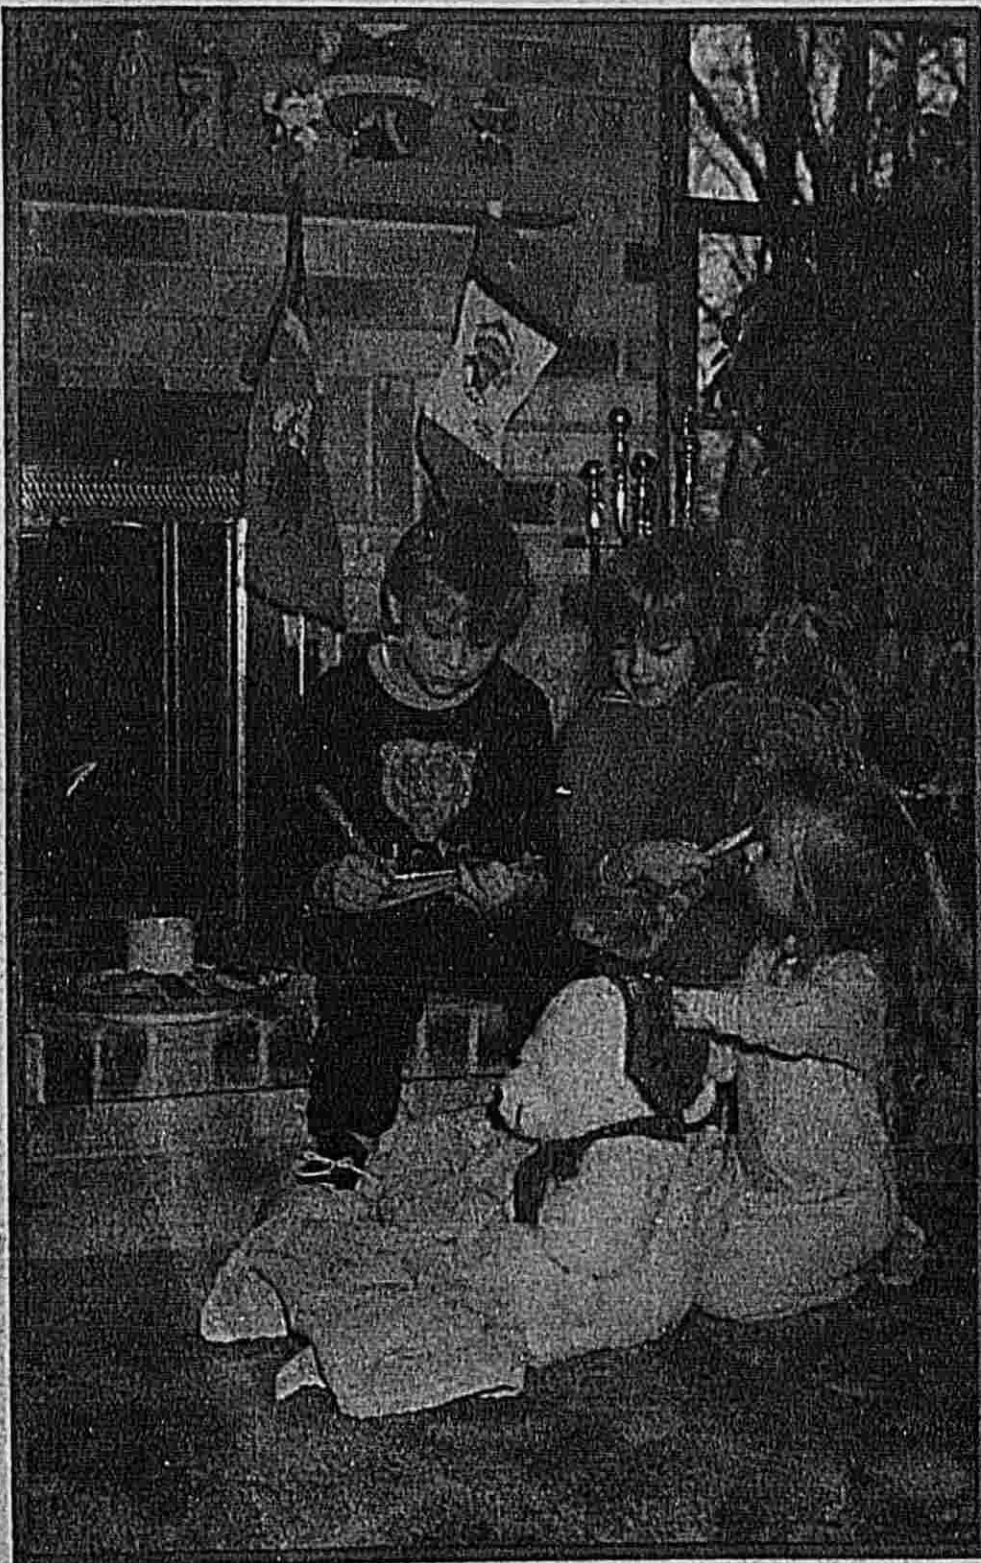

"The schools are just a mirror of society, we have these problems, but they are not just the school's but society's, and society as a whole has to deal with them," says Steve Wapon, assistant principal at ACHS.

13 joining in lawsuit

After a court hearing concerning the lawsuit filed by neighbors against Petite Lake resident Spencer Askfeldt on the renovation of his lakefront property, Askfeldt informs the newspaper that only Paul Kito is suing him, not Joe Titus as previously reported.

He adds that he has received a letter from the state's attorney's office advising that "the present situation does not warrant and will not result in the initiation of legal proceedings by the Lake County Health Dept. against Mr. Askfeldt."

According to Atty. Robert Long, who is handling the suit against Askfeldt, he asked for an amended complaint at the hearing which will result in adding 13 more of Askfeldt's neighbors to the complainant list in the lawsuit, a list that still includes Titus.

Holiday huddle

Student program

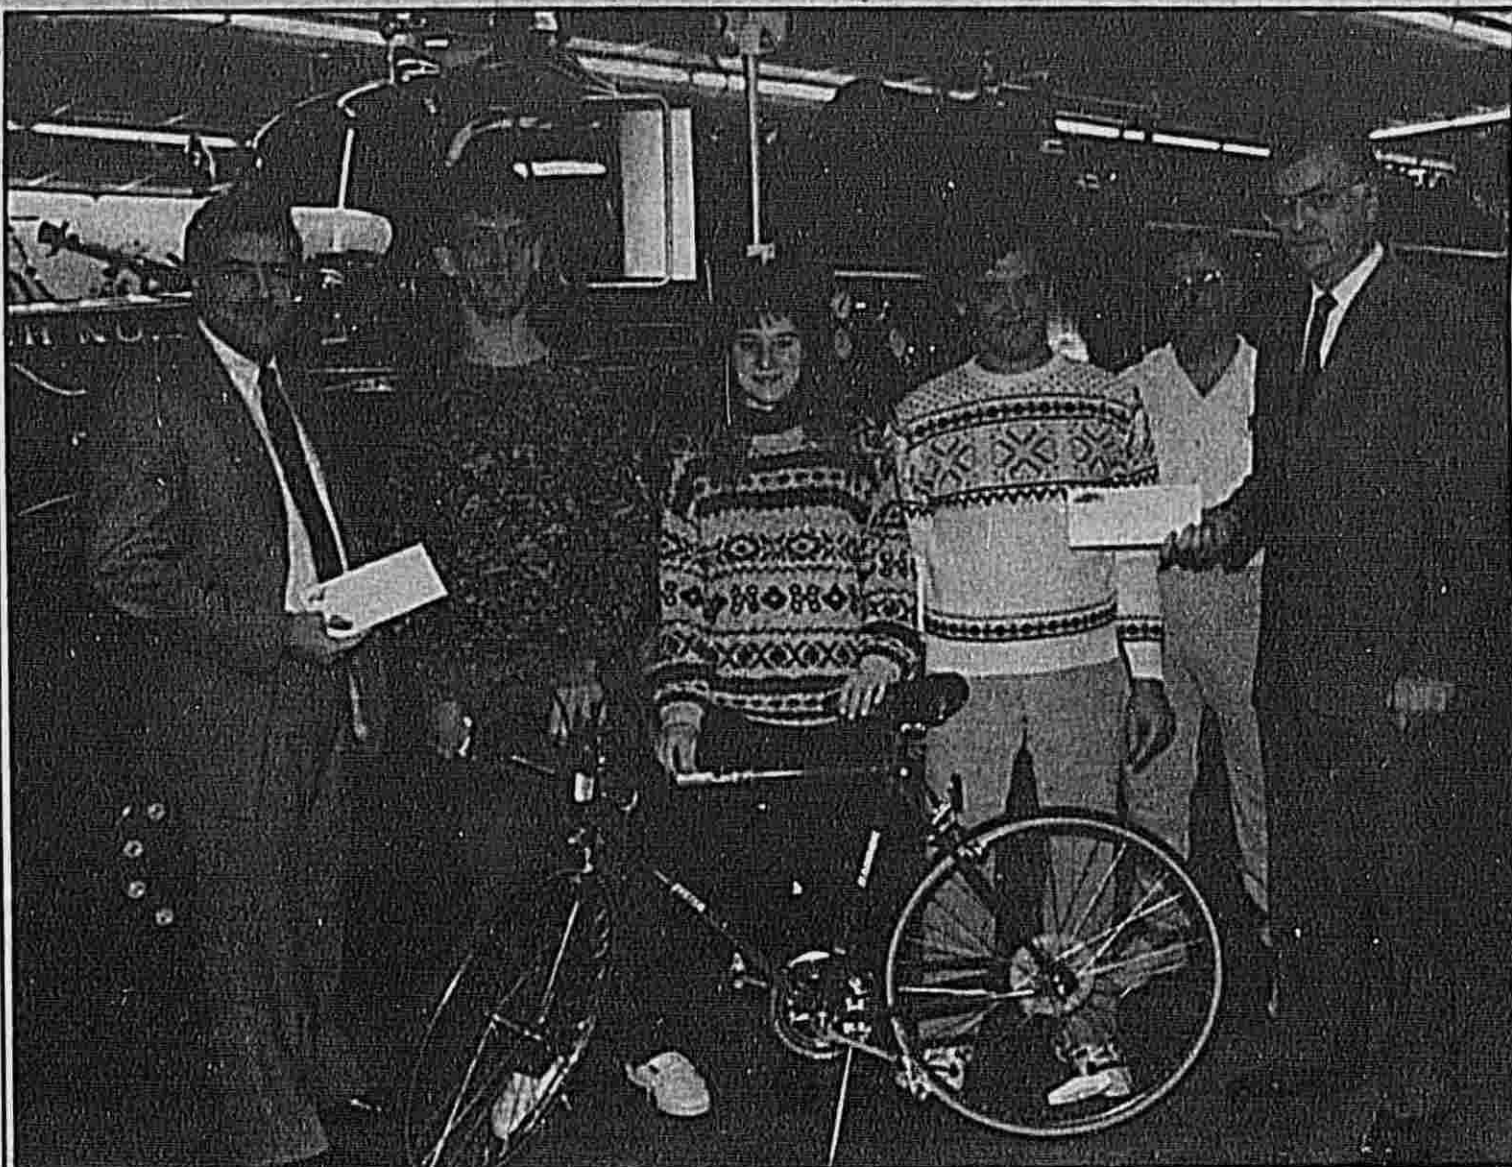

The Antioch Community High School student assistance program will be hosting the second Parents Awareness Night on Jan. 11, 1990 at 7 p.m. in the high school commons. The topic is substance abuse and the presentation is titled, "Get Involved Before Your Kids Co." The presenters are Wayne Hunter, special agent for the Metropolitan Enforcement Agency of Lake County and Bryan Philbin, director of services for Antioch Area Youth and Family Assessment Center. The group extends an invitation to all ACHS parents and faculty as well as parents and faculty from Lake Villa Dist. 41, Antioch Dist. 34, Emmons, Grasslake, Millburn, Prince of Peach, St. Peter's and Faith Lutheran schools.

Dr. Steven Ayre

Steven G. Ayre, M.D., of Antioch, is participating in a unique nationwide medical study to evaluate the effects of a new antihypertensive treatment. Dr. Ayre is one of 900 doctors who have been selected to participate in the antihypertension program. Dr. Ayre, a graduate of the Univ. of Ottawa Medical School in Canada, has been practicing in Antioch for five years. He and his wife, Laura, have three daughters. Dr. Ayre is president of the Lake County TB Board.

Band concert

On Thursday evening Dec. 14, the Antioch Community High School Symphonic and Concert Bands will perform their annual Christmas Concert. The concert will be held in the high school auditorium and will begin at 7:33 p.m.

Famed watercolorist set to speak at women's club

Kay Smith, Chicago watercolorist and painter of the American historical sites, will address the Antioch Women's Club.

Wednesday, Jan. 10, at the State Bank of Antioch, 440 Lake St., beginning at 1 p.m.

Slides of paintings from Smith's American Legacy Collection of 214 watercolors of historical sites will be featured along with unique insights which the artist has acquired in her research of the landmarks.

Smith is the only artist to receive the coveted George Washington Honor Medal of the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge for her art work which helped achieve a better understanding of the American way of life.

Each of her lectures is adapted to its audience. Her studio is located at 2239 N. Burling St. in Chicago. For program information contact Vickie Anton at (708)395-1309 or Shirley Graesser at (708)395-2685.

Nau returned to Elgin, as judge denies release

Mental patient Ralph Nau will remain in the Elgin State Mental Hospital now that a Kane County judge has denied his release request "because he is a danger to himself and others."

Nau, 34, has been in the nationwide press recently for threatening the lives of at least 40 celebrities.

Claiming to be married to Olivia Newton John, Nau reportedly followed the singer to Australia twice. Singer Sheena Easton and Oscar winner Cher have also been threatened by Nau.

The mental patient, who lived on a farm outside of Antioch in 1984 when he was charged with the ax murder of his eight-year-old stepbrother, has relatives in southeastern Wisconsin.

He did not stand trial on the murder charges because he was declared incompetent and committed to the mental institution.

Board Meets

The Antioch Village Board meets at 7:30 p.m., at the village hall, on the first and third Mondays of the month.

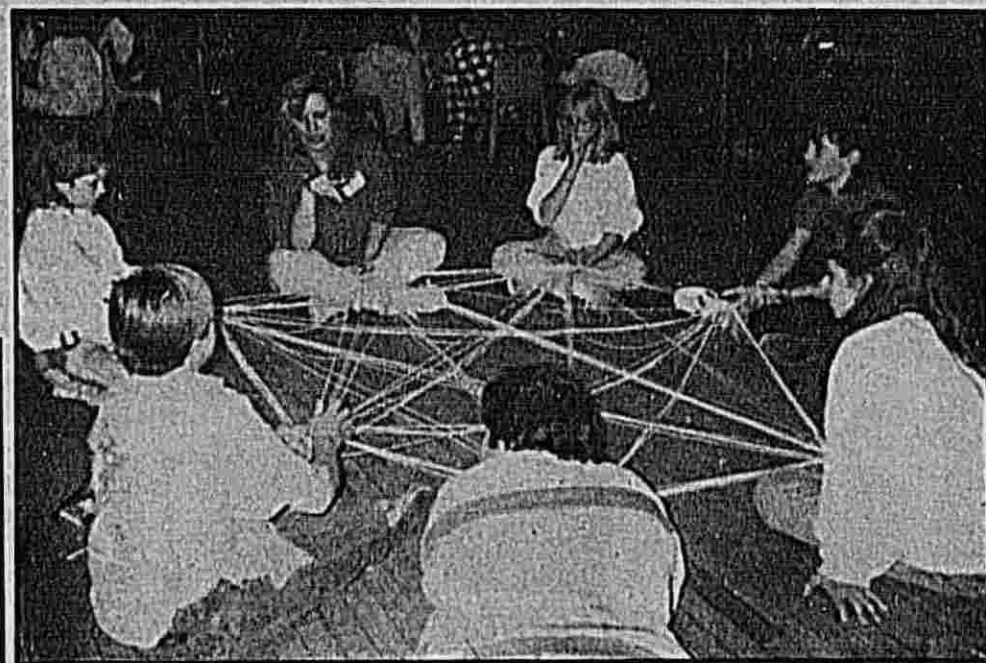

Cops cite Antioch man

Grayslake Police have charged an Antioch man with several counts after a incident in which a car was reported in Manor Lake.

According to Grayslake police reports, Wayne C. Steffens, age 32, of Antioch, was charged with failure to report a motor vehicle accident, failure to give information after a property damage accident and improper use of registration following his arrest for an accident which occurred at 9:11 p.m. Nov. 28.

Steffens told police his brakes failed and his vehicle entered Manor Lake. Following the accident, Steffens left the scene on foot and the Grayslake Police and Fire Depts. responded to a call from an area resident and searched the lake and immediate area for the accident victim until 10:24 p.m.

Grass Lake 'In Touch'

Grass Lake School students participate in first 'In Touch' seminar at Antioch Scout House. Helped by Sharon Jones, Micki Jones, Michelle Adams and Julie Schumacher, they make 'Web of Sharing.'

Parks sets program for 'Mom and Me'

Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. of the Village of Antioch is on the move again!

Beginning on Jan. 5, 1990, at 9:30 a.m., Antioch Parks and Recreation will be sponsoring a program for mothers and children called "Me, Myself and Mom!"

This particular program will run for six weeks and only cost $20 for the six week session. The class will meet every Friday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The purpose of this program is to help two and three year old children get involved in outside activities. They will be able to participate in group activities. They will be able to participate in group activities with other moms and their children.

The two and three-year-olds will be at "school" for only an hour and half, yet to these young ones this hours and a half can mean the world. It is also important because mom stays with them.

Songs, nursery rhymes, story times, and games are just a few things mom and child will share together. Mom will participate in the class at least for a half hour. (This way any and all songs can be practiced at home).

Not only does this class help the young ones, it also helps mom. While the little ones play together, mothers will be able to discuss and watch how their child interacts. Coffee will be provided every morning. Dads are also invited to take part in the class.

For further detail or sign-up call the parks and recreation office at (708)395-2160. Call soon as class is expected to fill fast.

Excelling in strength tests

Tops in sit and reach

Russ finishes holiday stroll through Antioch

As Christmas nears, Russ Fairchild finishes his annual holiday stroll through downtown Antioch.

I arrive at the Ben Franklin Family Center "and here's your store with the Christmas spirit!" It's a real pleasure to be a part of this transformation in Antioch. No need to go running off to Fox Lake, Waukegan, Kenosha or Racine. "Get the picture?" Back in your own back yard... "A Winter Wonderland..."

Don Marski, the owner, is to be commended for the complete renovation of this fine establishment. However, this was a team effort.

I saw with my own eyes, the uphill struggle that confronted them. The upheaval of the entire store from stem to stern. No corner was spared one bit. There was times I saw "Chief Honcho" Bob Obenauf, so tired my heart went out to him. And not just him, the strain was felt by all the employees, from Jean Kosar in the office, to Manager Barb Bailey over in arts and crafts, on to Pearl Leatherberry, Jeanine Kasprovicz in ladies wear, Dawn Dunham in frames and pictures, and whoever is over in Christmas trees, them too, (Cindy?)

Diane Swanson, cashier, always had her work laid out for her, with the new influx of customers, she was always busy. One Day I asked her, "Diane, have you noticed any changes around here?" "Toyland Toyland..."

I arrive at Struggles and in looking around this posh place, I see holdovers from the "Footlights 89." The talented hosts of "Yankee Doodle Danny's," Joanne and Dan Dugenske (Strangs). Rave reviews.

In the same vein, up at a balcony table, sits a main star of the hit "Ducts." None other than Fr. Bob Tonelli, and his six parishioner fans, to wit: Jean Daniel, Vera Mirocko, Elaine Toman, Lottie Koziol, Pat Kenyon and Peg Harrison. Nufsed.

Our popular and esteemed Mayor, "Hizzoner" Bob Wilton is in the room. Likewise Tim Osmond of Pride Mark Insurance. Brad and Ellen Ipsen of American Family Insurance are dining.

Mentioning Tim Osmond, early this morning, I saw Tom Dvorak and his landscaping crew doing a splendid job on Tim's property.

Leaving this lovely atmosphere, I wave to one of Antioch's finest, Lt. Tom Fisher of the Antioch Police Dept. Right behind Tom, are two heavy hitters, Trustee Ron Cunningham and Earl Yates of Cunningham Cartage. Right on!

Vi's Yellow Bird on Channel Lake on the outskirts of town, is popular polka palace of Vi and Al Johantgen. This beautiful showplace never loses its allure to me. A shining example of what proper management and perseverance will produce.

Talking about talent, Vi handles that naturally. Talking about personality, she scores high on that, also, diplomacy, if she lacked in that, I wouldn't be writing this stroll through town.... "Silver Bells..."

At Vi's, there's almost always a perpetual appearance of Christmas present-12 months of the year. And for your dancing pleasure top notch polka bands like Hot-Nuts Ron and Uncle Jess and the Stardusters, Barbara Flannum and visiting pros like Eddie Korosa, all appear and of the many night spots I've frequented in my lifetime, none have afforded me that same feeling of really being among friends, and sincere well wishers.

Hostess Betty Newer has contributed to that greatly, with her pleasant ways and manners. Vi, Betty and Ron, that's a combination hard to beat.

Back on Sept. 24, at the Marriott Hotel on Michigan Ave. in downtown Chicago, Vi was on stage with co-host Steven Baskerville for the Ms. Illinois Senior Citizen Pageant.

So, in retrospect, what a more opportune time than this Christmas to patch up misunderstandings, and forgive and forget those petty indifferences that crop up during the year.

Remember: "You can't sprinkle the perfume of happiness upon others...without spilling a few drops on yourself..."

Well folks, I hope you were right along with me, on this last stroll to 1989, and Lord willing, we shall pass this way again.

Enjoy your holidays!

Lizard: 'Orderbs, anyone?' as she works on spelling

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

Okay people, be honest, how good is your spelling? Or perhaps I should say how bad is your spelling? I recently had to come up with the spelling of hors d'oeuvres, and come up with it I did. With confidence, I quickly jotted down "orderbs." Naturally, I didn't realize I misspelled the word because I normally spell things the way I pronounce them. So "orderbs" seemed perfectly all right to me. However, my misspelling was tactfully pointed out and I truly enjoyed a good laugh over it (as did a lot of other people).

If ever you want to know about the Lizard's spelling expertise, just ask Linda Boerman. She still get over the fact that I can't sell spaghetti (spaghetti), or receipe (recipe), right, Linda?

The fact is when I realize I do not know how to spell a word I usually drag out the old Webster (the one I used in high school. It must be an antique). However, in certain cases, such as "orderbs," "speghetti," and "receipe," I truly was not aware that I did not know how to spell these words till my loyal and good friends (happily) pointed out the error of my ways. Oh, it ing from you all. You can send your get well wishes to him at Children's Memorial Hospital at 2300 N. Children's Plaza, Chicago, IL 60614. I am sure Brian would love receiving your cards, and I am sure his family would equally love knowing so many people are concerned. I know you will get to read Antioch in 1968, Helen Nolan was the president of the Grass Lake School PTA. After Helen's children graduated from GLS, and after Irene Fitch retired as the head cook, Helen took over her job and was responsible for filling the kids' tummies with good food for many years. Not only did she feed the kids in style, she also knew how to keep the staff happy with her delicious cooking.

After Helen retired, Gayle Milowski took over as head cook at GLS. On Wednesday, Helen was on hand to help Gayle with the cooking since Sandy Gilday was home sick.

It was wonderful seeing you there, Helen, it has been far too long. I was so glad to hear you still live in our "home town." I am sure having Joan Larson for a neighbor works out dandy for you both. I'm equally as happy to hear that you read this column each week, and would like to remind you to call me with your tidbits from time to time. It is a way to keep all your Grass Lake friends posted on what is happening in your life.

It was like old times seeing you in the GLS kitchen, and naturally it brought back a lot of pleasant memories. Gosh, where does the time go?

Speaking of Gayle Milowski, a trip to her well kept kitchen paid off two-fold. First, seeing Helen again; secondly hearing about a graduation in her family. Gayle and Tom have two sons—Tom and David. Gayle's son, Tom, was a classmate of my daughter, Barbara. Tom graduated GLS in 1979 and ACHS in 1983. Now he has achieved another graduation honor.

On Sunday, Dec. 10, Tom graduated from Eastern Ill. Univ. in Charleston, Ill., with a major in economics and a minor in math. Congratulations, Tommy (as we used to call him). Not only is your family proud of you, the Lizard is equally as proud.

By the way, Tom, Rick Samson, Barb Schmehl and any other Grass Lakers of 1979, get on the stick and plan a 10-year reunion (even though it is a little after the fact).

GLS honor roll

The following Grass Lake School students should be commended for making the junior high honor roll for the first quarter:

Sixth grade—Jamie Brausam, Kelly Brausam, Colin Dent, Kari Fehrenbacher, Matt Fleming, Greg Laube, Walter Martens, Holly Mastalerz, Heather Mastalerz, Tammy Mazzuca, Frank Nava, Crystal O'Brien, Lisa Priller, Gina Rossi, Jon Utinans, Amy Weiler, Brandie Wennerstrom and Marnie Werneske.

Seventh grade—Beth Ann Boerman, Angela Burke, Josh Fleming, Jeff Fleischmann, Rhonda Garwood, Alex Grob, Suzie Johnson, Jenny Laube and Brad Priller.

Eighth grade—All Arnold, Mike Bradley, Karen Celkis, Missy Cole, Amy Dogan, Christina Flores, Tony Gardin, Angie Grob, Clarissa Kasprzak, Dan Kick, April Kleich, Jenny Mosier, Vickie Quinlan, Karen Rogers, Jenny Santiemmo and Jessica Stella.

Keep up the good work, Grass Lakers!

Conference a success

Anthony Przeklasa, superintendent and Ray Liss, principal of Grass Lake School, would like to thank all of the parents who attended the parent teacher conferences this year. The conferences were very well attended with an overall average of about 95 percent of the parents in attendance. Several of the grades had 100 percent turnout.

This enthusiasm on the part of the parents to participate in the conferences speaks well of the school district. Parent/Teacher conferences are just one other way of establishing good communication between the students, teachers and parents.

Etc., etc., etc. . . .

I'd like to thank Helen Olechny for her kind words to me last week after she read my column concerning my "overweight" appearance at my daughter's wedding. Helen, you are too sweet for words. Keep reading, and remember to call me with your tidbits.

Lunch talk

The infamous lunch crew got together once again for good conversation and much laughter. On Tuesday, Dec. 5, Darlene Olenick, Tricia Olenick, Julie Groh, Ardeen Harris, Pat Santiemmo, Marie Brausam and yours truly gathered at Struggles in Antioch to enjoy the delicious soup and salad bar.

As usual, the talk around the table was "off the wall." Tricia and Darlene were talking about Tricia's recent car accident in which she sustained cuts and bruises that required stitches in her mouth. Marie quickly announced she had a tooth pulled and was still suffering from the after effects of the stitches. Marie started to laugh and winced in pain. Tricia chimed in, "Keep a stiff upper lip, Marie!"

It seems Tricia was just returned the advice given to her by Marie when the "shoe was on the other foot," or (in this case) the "stitches were in the other mouth!"

I arrived a little late and was happy to discover that everyone was waiting to order. I asked what everyone was having and was told "soup and salad bar." I inquired as to what kind of soup. The waitress, Joyce Cocoran, said beef vegetable and cream of turkey. Just about everyone at the table said, "Oooo, cream of turkey sounds good." Three years later, Pat Santiemmo chimes in (from outer space)—"What's the soup of the day?" Hey, Pat Sherwood, does this sound familiar? Remember spinach soup and Popeye?

Or, how about you, Sandy Chinn, remember where Ceil Bennet has gone? This spaced-in and spaced-out syndrome must be catching, because it is happening to more and more of us each day. I think it is time for the Lizard to pick a new group of friends. I'll give it more serious thought the next time Marie Brausam leaves me stranded somewhere!

Happy anniversary, Me

"Happy anniversary to me, happy anniversary, Dear Lizard, happy anniversary to me." Would you believe it has been one year since the Lizard began writing this column?

If you recall, my first column consisted of the fun we all had at our annual ornament exchange. Once I peeked out that column, I thought—wow, what did I get myself into? How can I come up with something to write about each week?

Thanks to all of you who read my column and, in turn, for calling me with your tidbits, I somehow or other put a column together each week thereafter.

Thanks to all of you, I've had an enjoyable year getting to know more people in and about our "hometown." Keep calling, keep writing, keep telling me all of those wonderful tidbits that are not only important to you, but also enjoyable to everyone.

Remember, the column is about school events, town happenings, vacations, weddings, anniversaries, birthdays, get well wishes, school accomplishments, sports accomplishments and, finally, my favorite—the "bloopers!"

Let's look back—remember the following bloopers that took place this past year?

Gary Groh's full-face helmet, Miss Marie's love for pine cones, Davis Simpson's 65th birthday, Ardeen Harris and the courthouse metal detector, Marie Brausam's black and blue nose, Linda Boerman and the wooden fence, Debbie Foerster's quest for Twiggie, James Seeless' stage and chair mishap, Sally Hiller's eyeglass adventure, Ardeen Seeless and the teeth cleaning, Ray Brausam's short two by four studes, Toni Burke and the closed flue, Irene Falcone's polished toes, Rick Hansen's stitches, Tony Santiemmo lost at Northwestern, Tricia Olenick and the water closet, Jim Harris and his date with the garbage can, Pat Santiemmo's premature bingo call, John Boerman's bicycle ride, Cheryl Henning's fundraiser idea, Ed Caulfield's Lake Marie tour and, finally, Tony Santiemmo and the grease pit!

It has been fun. Keep them coming. Hope you all have a great Christmas, and make it your New Year's resolution to "remember to call the Lizard!"

Hometown Goodies

is rough being so close to perfect. People are always on guard trying to catch your occasional screw-ups. Send get well wishes

This week I have a request for prayers and plenty of get well wishes for Brian Rubash of Antioch. Brian had to enter the hospital, and I'm sure he'd love hear-this message, Brian, as your mom will surely show it to you on her next visit. Take care, you have a lot of people out there wishing you well.

GLS tidbits

This past Wednesday, I was lucky enough to run into a friendly face from the past. When I moved to

Engagement

Elizabeth Davis and Norris Porter

Davis-Porter

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Davis of Antioch announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann, to Norris Encl Porter of Jacksonville, Ill. the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil E. Porter of Westville, Ill.

An August 1990 wedding is being planned.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Antioch Community High School and is a senior in the political science department at Illinois State Univ. in Normal.

The groom-to-be is a graduate of Westville Twp. High School and has received his bachelor of arts degree and masters degree in business education from Illinois State Univ. He is currently a member of the faculty of Jacksonville High School. He has also been selected as head track coach for the upcoming track season.

Comes the revolution!

Emmons Grade School students study Revolutionary War as fifth grade students stand in front of bulletin board that depicts different events of that war. Al Vanderrush, rear, spoke to the class about the events and people involved in that war. From left in rear are, Vanderrush; second row, Chris Hartman, Jim Tourmls, Robert Baldwin and Bret Towns. In first row, from left are, Keith Hurley, Jason O'Higgins and Mark Prosvive.

Sequoits in 'must' win when playing Nile N.

Before this season started, Antioch High boys basketball Coach Jeff Dresser believed one of his team's main weapons would be Matt Pelland.

Pelland would be the team's "air craft carrier" as Al McGuire would say, using his 6-5, 213 pound frame to dominate the middle, as he scored 12.8 points a game last year.

"We have to do a better job of getting the ball to Pelland in the second and third quarters," Dresser said.

The urgency of Dresser's comments can be realized as the Sequoits dropped two North Suburban Conference contests last weekend to fall to 2-7 overall, 1-2 in NSC play.

Pelland, playing despite an ankle sprain suffered against Libertyville, scored a 12 points against Lake Forest, in a 69-60 loss and one shot in the second and third stanzas. Lake Forest dominated those quarters to the tune of 41-26.

The Sequoits are putting a lot of emphasis on the Dec. 15 game at Niles North.

"We are approaching this as a must game," Dresser said.

The Sequoits seemed to start well in the first quarter against Lake Forest. A 21-10 lead after eight minutes was the result. "We came out and played really well. We hit the skids in the second quarter," Dresser said.

Antioch, which lost by 14 points to Libertyville the day before, still managed a 33-31 halftime lead.

Lake Forest's Alan Benes took over in the third quarter, scoring nine of his 23 points in that stanza. Lake Forest opened up a 51-47 lead.

Mike Newcomb had 18 points to lead Antioch.

Against the Wildcats, a poor start did the Sequoits in. Using a balanced attack the home team ran up a 14-6 lead after one. Matters turned worse in the second quarter, with the NSC co-leaders scoring 29 points.

"We missed some real nice shots and they capitalized,"

Dresser said.

The Sequoits did manage to cut the lead to nine points in the fourth quarter. Newcomb had 14 points, junior forward Dan Mead 13, Pelland 12 and Tim Fox 10.

Libertyville guard Shawn Stanek paced the winners with 19 points and Bart Nielsen added 10.

Ring's Radiator Service
RING'S RADIATOR SERVICE at 23946 West North Ave. in Antioch, phone 395-6550, has been serving car and truck owners with an excellent radiator service, at down-to-earth prices. They can detect the cause of a car's overheating. Perhaps it's only a faulty hose, perhaps scale or sediment is blocking water circulation or perhaps the radiator is leaking. They'll find the trouble quickly and repair it for you.
Not all radiator trouble is in automobiles and trucks; tractor radiators frequently need attention and so do the radiators in stationary engines used for pumping and other farm work. RING'S RADIATOR SERVICE is equipped for expert radiator repairing, rebuilding, cleaning and recoring. They also repair gas tanks, water pumps and do minor welding. Their telephone number is 395-6550. Estimates are given for any type of radiator service. All the folks at RING'S RADIATOR SERVICE wish you a very Happy Holiday Season.

CLC board estimates 4.9 percent tax levy rise

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees approved a resolution estimating the tax levy for 1989 at its November meeting at the Grayslake campus.

The board estimated taxes to be levied for the education fund, operation and maintenance fund, tort immunity, audit tax and health and safety funds in 1989 at $13,493,861, based on an estimated 18 percent increase in equalized assessed valuation of property in the district. The 1989 proposed levy reflects a 4.9 percent increase over the $12,854,499 in taxes extended for these funds in 1988.

"I think this is a practical estimate," commented Trustee Richard Anderson. He noted that the tax rate would still drop because of reduced levies for life safety and other purposes.

Before opening in regular session, the board canvassed the results of the Nov. 7 election in which incumbent Nan Fairhurst of Long Grove and newcomer Barbara D. Oilschlager of Lake Villa were elected to six-year terms. Patricia Jones of Waukegan, who was appointed to the board when a trustee resigned, was elected to serve a two-year term.

The board also elected Fairhurst as the chairman and Nancy Block of Prairie View as vice-chairman for 1989-90.

The board also accepted a proposal from the Corcoran Consulting Group and Hay Management Consultants to review and develop a new compensation system for the college's classified staff. The review would affect 170-180 full-time classified employees and 25 part-time classified employees.

The board approved a contract with M. Jeanne Dolphus Cotton and Associates for $9,150 for services to continue the "Getting It Together" program at Waukegan West High School through May 1990. Cotton, a Vernon Hills psychologist, conducts weekly sessions with at-risk students at the high school to help them raise self-esteem and make positive changes in their lives. The contract will be funded in part with a $5,000 Chicago Foundation for Women grant and through CLC funds relating to special populations service and instructional improvements.

In other action, the board passed a number of resolutions. They honored two employees for 20 years of service to the college: Linda Vehrs of Wildwood, the secretary to administrative affairs vice president; and John Shelton of Libertyville, a physics instructor. The board also recognized the contributions of Don Drake, who resigned as director of Audio-Visual Services to become executive director of the Northern Illinois Learning Resource Cooperative. Richard Bryan of Grayslake, outgoing chairman of the Board of Trustees who lost a reelection bid on Nov. 7, was recognized for his service to the college and the board.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste sticks to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. But that's expensive, and often only a temporary help.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquify even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money

A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too

Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some, may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a signal, act now. Start cleaning your drains the safe, effective, guaranteed way. Get Plumb Clean today!

Shelter Club hosts 'Christmas at Allendale'

"Christmas at Allendale," the annual Christmas event hosted by The Shelter Club of Illinois, was held at the Allendale Assn. in Lake Villa.

The Allendale Assn. is a residential, therapeutic educational treatment center located in Lake Villa. Allendale serves emotionally disturbed, autistic and mentally retarded youngsters from Lake, McHenry and Cook Counties. It is one of the leading child care agencies in the United States, serving over 650 troubled youngsters and their families through residential and day education programs, foster families and two outpatient clinics.

Established in 1905, The Shelter Club is a North Shore service organization dedicated to supporting Allendale and its residents. In its many years of service to Allendale, The Shelter Club has raised over $1.5 million, sponsored many annual events for residents, and organized numerous projects to benefit Allendale.

Shelter president Gay Grumhaus of Lake Forest, and program chairman Paula Beck Moskowitz of Lake Forest and Nancy Hancock of Lake Bluff coordinated the Christmas festivities this year.

The Christmas program began with a chapel service on the Allendale campus, and was followed by a musical presentation by the Allendale choir, a buffet dinner and a visit by Santa. Shelter Club members provided each Allendale resident with a Christmas gift selected from the child's wish list.

Rempert attends conference

Vickie Rempert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rempert of Fox Lake, was one of eight North Central College students who attended the Illiana Regional Conference of the National Assn. of Campus Activities in Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 16 to 19.

The National Assn. of Campus Activities is an organization which promotes campus programming through leadership development. Students participating in the conference attended educational sessions on such topics as program management, motivation, meeting planning and organizational development.

Rempert, a junior majoring in marketing, is president of the College Union Activities Board at North Central College.

North Central College is an independent, comprehensive college of the liberal arts and sciences.

Cross country skiing romantic in Wis.

It's romantic - and it burns calories.

It's educational - and it's the best way to survive a Wisconsin winter.

It's cross country skiing in Wisconsin.

Each winter, the Wis. Dept. of Natural Resources offers 516 miles of cross country ski trails, including 421 groomed miles, in 46 state parks, forests and recreation areas.

According to state park superintendents, interest in cross country skiing is rapidly increasing.

"Cross country skiing is both relaxing and a good form of exercise," Deb Weidert, Lake Kegonsa State Park superintendent, said. "I think the growing interest in cross country skiing reflects the current health trend."

While meeting that trend through traditional daytime skiing opportunities, 15 parks, forests and recreation areas also offer special nighttime candlelight skiing.

"Candlelight skiing is romantic, and definitely more social than physical," said Gerald Trumm, Mirror Lake State Park superintendent. "And it's so safe that for some people the candlelight skis are their first attempt at cross country skiing."

Trumm, who initiated candlelight skiing in Wisconsin state parks, said that after sunset on predetermined dates, state park staff light a portion of available ski trails with special candles constructed from recycled wax and bulk wick.

"We need a really large wick to keep the flame going outside," he said.

"People like it so much that, if weather conditions are good, we get about 1,000 people for our candlelight skis here at Mirror Lake State Park."

The following areas offer candlelight skiing: Bond Recreation Area, Feb. 3;

Council Grounds State Park, Dec. 22, Jan. 26,

Feb. 10, March 9; Devil's Lake State Park, Jan. 27;

Harrington Beach State Park, Jan. 20; Hartman

Creek State Park, Jan. 20; Interstate State Park, Jan.

13, Feb. 10; Kettle Moraine State Forest (northern unit),

Jan. 27; Kohler-Andrea State Park, Feb. 3; Lake

Kegonsa State Park, Jan. 20, Feb. 2, Feb. 24; Lake

Wissota State Park, Jan. 6, Feb. 3, Feb. 24; Lapham

Peak State Park, Jan. 20, Feb. 17; Mirror Lake State Park, Jan. 6, Jan. 20, Feb.

3, Feb. 17; Perrot State Park, Jan. 20, Feb. 3; Pike

Lake State Park, Feb. 3; Willow River State Park,

Feb. 2.

A list of all state parks with cross country ski trails is available by calling the Bureau of Parks and Recreation at (608) 266-2818.

Issues for the '90s

Part of the American tradition for political hyperbole is the conviction that the next election will be the most significant, most pivotal or the most something of the century. Usually that isn't the case, but everyone likes to think so, most especially the candidates.

While the early rhetoric for the Lake County Board election of 1990 now taking shape pretty much falls in the same category, there is every reason to believe that the 1990 reorganization of which half of the 24 seats will be up for election will have as much impact on the future as any board election in the past couple of decades.

That is true not only because of the announced retirement of several long-time leaders, but also because of some issues facing Lake County government. Robert Depke, dean of Lake County township supervisors and a past County Board chairman, did a good job encapsulating issues board members will face in the new decade as he announced his own candidacy to return to the board. Depke said the new board will have to decide the siting question for a landfill and whether to build an incinerator, what the appropriate use of land condemnation is and how county government can lead the fight against drug abuse.

Depke's mentioning of land condemnation was an oblique reference to the status of Lake County's burning open space issue that has been in the foreground since Lake County Forest Preserve Commissioners have used eminent domain powers to acquire large blocks of open space and, in some cases, close off development. Open space and the environment, especially the future of wetlands, are certain to remain in the forefront of public debate. Down-sizing the County Board likely will be an issue as will popular election of the County Board chairman.

As the big time politicians in Washington are wont to do, the above amounts to a "short list." There is no shortage of issues. But then there is no shortage of candidates, either.

Benefits of less defense

Despite the presence of Great Lakes Naval Training Center and Ft. Sheridan, and the accompanying impact of governmental payrolls on the local economy, Lake County is not big on defense industries.

That means defense spending cuts envisioned in the early 1990's in the federal budget will have more of a positive than negative impact in this locality.

Along with slightly easing of the income tax load on all citizens for defense spending, we're sure to benefit from increased governmental spending for social programs popular with politicians like child care, education, roads, health, environment.

Theoretically, the entire U.S. economy should benefit from defense cuts now that our nation has more of a service based economy. Positive thinking economists are looking for continued growth to be fueled by lower interest rates that impact on housing, plant expansion and business equipment modernizing.

All in all, less defense spending should mean more for everyone else. That's not a bad prospect for beginning a new decade in a few weeks.

Letters To The Editor

Expensive 'farm land'

Editor:

When Libertyville Township went to court to secure Cuneo acreage for open space, the suit was lost. According to the court opinion, it need not receive open space designation because it was mostly farm land. What wasn't farmland was wetland.

Tell me, Circuit Court, Appellate Court and Supreme Court judges, do you consider $56,000 plus per acre to be the going price for farm land? Apparently Mr. Swank and his rubber stamp board do. No wonder the Cuneos love him. He just pays them what they ask with no thought for the taxpayers.

Betty Schwalbach

Professional police dept.

Editor:

Too often we hear about police brutality and ineptness, so I thought I would share a recent experience of ours involving the Lake Zurich police.

We are doing business as an RV center, with some very high visibility items; all of which are open to the roadway. At about 11 p.m., I got a call that the Lake Zurich police had apprehended someone trying to steal a top-of-the-line Class A motor home. Quite frankly, being from a small town myself, I had been a little skeptical of the capabilities of small town police efforts. Was this ever a surprise! Not only did they apprehend the would-be thief with a minimum of damage to the unit but the degree of courtesy, professionalism and the minimum amount of interruption of our daily routine was an extremely pleasant awakening.

Atheist spurs Christians

Editor:

We often hear the phrase "God works in strange and mysterious ways." While it must seem strange that God should work through an atheist, it seems to be true, for throughout the Wauconda area, because of Robert Sherman, Christian crosses are shining everywhere reminding us that Christmas is a time of Christian fellowship and love.

I'm sure I'm not alone when I say, "Thank you, Mr. Sherman, for putting Christ back into Christmas!"

Nancy Blake
Wauconda

God believes in atheist

Editor:

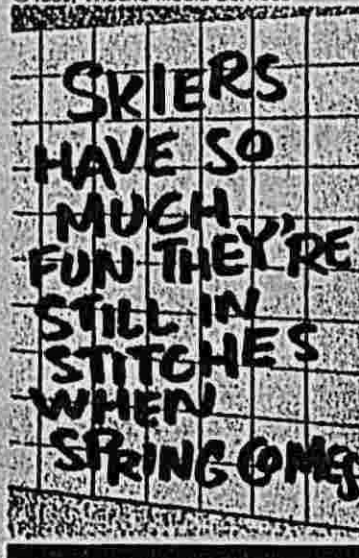

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Robert Sherman for coming to Wauconda and causing such chaos over two crosses which have stood on our municipal buildings during the holiday season for years.

When I first read of it last year, I was totally appalled. How could someone

Media focuses on response to atheist

by BILL SCHROEDER

National media attention is focusing on Wauconda's response to the atheist who forced the community to drop the custom of erecting lighted crosses on village water towers at Christmas.

The outpouring of crosses on private property and business locations is the reaction of persons who were outraged at threats from Robert Sherman to remove the crosses or face an expensive court challenge which, he said, the village would lose.

Jay Smuda, a woodworking hobbyist, typifies the reaction of villagers. He's offering wooden crosses for sale at his $2 cost. USA Today covered the story Tuesday, and the Washington Times contacted this writer for information. Sheila Godar said that the village looks more Christmasy this year than it has in the last 40 years.

All because of an atheist.

HOLIDAY GALA—Chris and Bill Govas, and son Gus, garnered rave notices from guests for their annual Country Squire Christmas gala. This year's party featured maestro Franz Bentler, legendary society band leader from Chicago. As guests entered the banquet foyer, they were greeted by music being played by the Libertyville High School Strings.

SHARP WIT—Members of the Lake County judiciary and legal corps who attended the Illinois Judges Assn. convention last week in Chicago continue to sing the praises of columnist George Will, the guest speaker.

Will is one of the most perceptive observers of the national and international political scene. He gained riveted attention with comments like his comparison of the two political parties. "The Democrats are brain dead," Will asserted, "and the Republicans have reduced their economic policy to a nine-second TV news bit: 'Read our lips. No new taxes.'"

GREAT SONG—Is there a song that captures the holiday mood better than Leroy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride?" Any rendition never fails to send chills down my spine. The recommended version is the recording by the Boston Pops orchestra.

TAKE NEED—The holiday wouldn't be the holidays without an announcement from Six Flags Great America about a new ride for the coming season. This year it's "Iron Wolf" for 1990—a stand-up looping rolling coaster. For the statistically minded, the new ride covers a half-mile of steel track with plenty of steep drops, sharp curves and two 360 degree loops. My stomach is getting queazy thinking about it.

Letters Invited

Letters to the editor are welcome. They should be on topics of general interest, approximately 250 words or less. All letters must be signed, and contain home address and telephone number. The editor reserves the right to condense all letters.

INVITATION—Nothing like the mayor inviting everyone over to celebrate Christmas. That's exactly what Mayor Jim Kay of Lake Zurich is doing Sunday, Dec. 17 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. to share his outdoor lights and inside decorations. The Kay home has been an outdoor spectacular for drive-by admirers for years and a year ago the mayor invited a few friends to "stop over" and 400 persons showed up. This year police will be on duty to handle the expected throng. "My home isn't that big so everyone will have to keep moving," remarked Mayor Kay, who said he was carrying on a family tradition for colorful decorations started when he was a boy growing up in Lincolnwood on Chicago's north side.

EASY DECISION—A remark from his daughter turned Larry Leafblad from a doubtful candidate to an active office seeker in an instant. On a Sunday afternoon drive, Alice Leafblad remarked to her father, "I'm for the environment." At that moment, "my mind was made up. I decided to run again for the Lake County Board," declared the Highland Lake resident.

Unsuccessful in his quest for a County Board post two years ago, Leafblad put nominating petitions into circulation Monday afternoon for a spot on the ballot in the March primary from Dist. 4 of northwest Lake County. He's a Republican. To be sure, 12-year-old Alice Leafblad will make sure her father has a strong environmental position for his campaign platform.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

In all the years of electing a chairman of the Lake County Board, there have been plenty of bitter votes. This has meant a divided board the succeeding two years. It happens every other December, as it will in 1990.

But only once in recent memory was there an election without bickering, fighting or endless ballots. It happened in 1976. The chairman got a unanimous, first-round vote of confidence from his colleagues. Harmony reigned.

Norman Geary served as chairman for two years. In the end the reform-minded supervisor from Avon Twp. said he was undercut by the political forces of Robert "Mickey" Babcox and the chairman to be, Harry Robin of Grant Twp.

Geary won't get a third chance at the chairmanship. He has announced his retirement at the end of his current term in 1990—after 25 years that have made him a fixture on the County Board.

Following in the footsteps of her father is Carol Calabresa of Libertyville, Dist. 5 representative on the Lake County Board.

Carol Simonson was born and raised in the Wisconsin country town of Deerfield, yes Deerfield. It is just off I-94 west of Madison. Dad was a farmer and member of the Dane County Board of Supervisors. When he was elected in 1960, there were 99 members, none of them women.

He served on that body for 25 years. But on election day 1974 he was killed. It was while on his way home from a family funeral enroute to the polls. The car in which he, his sister and her husband were riding was struck by a drunk driver. Carol's father and sister were killed and her uncle injured. That makes daughter Carol MADD every time she thinks about it.

So, now you know the rest of the story.

Collin McRae might be a popular name in Mundelein. But he's not as Republican as the Lake County Central Committee would like. Lots of people wish that weren't true because McRae would make a fine candidate for the Dist. 6 County Board job to which he aspires.

But at a fall GOP screening session for candidates, the young, dashing, self-assured retired 12-year mayor of Mundelein stumbled.

"If elected, will you support the Republican caucus for chairman of the county board?" was the standard question asked him and others seeking endorsement.

"It all depends on the candidate and issues," he replied.

The died-in-the wool flag-raising Republicans didn't need to hear any more.

Another person who won't get the endorsement of the Lake County Republican organization is incumbent Dist. 6 County Board member Bruce Hansen of Deer Park.

He, too, was asked the: "Will you support the Republican caucus?" question.

His reply: "Although I have been a lifelong Republican, I will not pledge my vote in advance to any special interest."

Hansen, a teacher at Zion-Benton High School, has since found out that was not the correct answer.

Flash! Wauconda Twp. Republican precinct committeeman Howard Bleze has done what most observers said he wouldn't dare do. He has filed for Dist. 6 representative on the County Board.

Few people thought the chairman of the maverick Wauconda Twp. Republican Assn. would actually do it. But he did on the first day nomination papers could be filed, Dec. 11.

Just to make sure everyone knew, Bleze called the newspapers.

Carol Calabresa

Speculation is still running rife about whether F.T. "Mike" Graham will file for re-election to the Dist. 5 County seat he has held for 16 years.

Most people say he won't.

Someone thinks he might. County Board member Carol Calabresa, who ran with Graham four years ago (but not this time), doesn't think he can give up politics. Not any more than an alcoholic can stop drinking booze overnight or a smoker quit cold-turkey, she says.

"Public service has been Graham's life," she said. "All of his waking hours have been devoted to this area. Graham didn't put in just a few hours a day like the new supervisor (Ralph Swank Jr.). He put in one and two shifts a day. That kind of life isn't easy to give up."

Democrats put county ticket together for '90

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Democrats are having a difficult time getting their ticket together for the March 1990 primary. Like their Republican counterparts, Democratic slatemakers are scurrying to round out tickets for all offices on the spring ballot between now and the Monday, Dec. 18, deadline for filing nominating petitions.

Leading the Democratic parade is 22-year state Rep. John Matijevich (D-Waukegan) of the 61st Dist. It wouldn't be the same if he didn't run again—and win. He was one of the first of his party to file his for re-election papers. A further measure of his party popularity, the dean of Lake County Democrats will be feted at a planned Lake County Democratic Party dinner in 1990, says Democratic Party Chairman Betty Ann Moore.

Another person the Democrats are pinning their hopes on is County Clerk Linda Hess. She swept into office eight years ago to succeed Democrat Grace Mary Stern, who was clerk for 12 years. "Hess is now going for Stern's record," Moore said. Hess has filed.

Stern, of Highland Park, who went on to become the Democratic state representative in the 58th Dist., has filed for re-election. Like Hess, she plans to run again—and win.

As for the rest of the county ticket, the Democrats are having trouble finding candidates for all offices.

Sander Stagman of Highland Park, who ran for sheriff in 1986 against Robert "Mickey" Babcox, has filed for Lake County treasurer. He will go up against the popular Jack "Red" Anderson, who has been the office holder for 12 years and a fixture there for almost 30 years.

The Democrats have all but conceded County Board races in Dist. 5 (Warren, Libertyville and Vernon Twp.) and Dist. 6 (Wauconda, Fremont, Cuba and Elia Twp.).

But there will be Democratic challengers in several other County Board races.

In Dist. 1 (West Deerfield and Deerfield Twp.) former three-term Highland Park Mayor Robert Buhai has filed for one of the two vacancies. The owner of a furniture-manufacturing firm has been out of the political limelight since 1987. Up for re-election is Richard "Rick" Price of Lake Forest, who was mentioned as possibly not running this year, and appointee James Mitchell of Deerfield.

In Dist. 2 (Shields Twp.), former Democratic board member Stan Pekol of Waukegan filed this week. Retired, he works as a building inspector. Also filing as a Democrat is Angelo Kyle of Waukegan.

The race for County Board in Dist. 3 (Waukegan, Newport, Benton and Zion Twp.) will have two Democratic candidates. Democrat Samuel Payne of Zion, who has been on the board for 17 years, is running again. Joining him on the ticket will be former board member Bertha Ogrin of Waukegan, president of several public bodies in that community.

Over in Dist. 4 (Antioch, Lake Villa, Avon and Grant Twp.) the Democrats have Julie Edwards of Round Lake Beach.

come to our town and tell us to take down our crosses? You can bet I was one of the first to start petitions, attend meetings and contact attorneys to see what could be done.

As a "baby" Christian, I was shattered. "How could this happen; what went wrong?" Then, the answer came as clear as a bell. Nothing went wrong. Everything went right. Mr. Sherman may have won the battle, but we had won the war. He helped out the Christ back into Christmas in Wauconda, because even though two crosses came down, they were replaced with many, many more crosses on private homes and businesses.

Isn't it wonderful that the Lord can even use an atheist as a vessel for His work. So, Mr. Sherman, even though you don't believe in my God, He believes in you. Merry Christmas.

Space purchase lauded

Editor:

Congratulations to Libertyville Twp. Supv. Ralph W. Swank, Jr., and his board of trustees, Rodger Hartman, Dorothy E. Mosler and Lynn Moran for acquisition of open space from the Cunco estate and ending of the Graham-Cunco lawsuits.

Swank and his board must be applauded for their dedication in seeking to end the senseless Mike Graham lawsuits and acquiring for the township 80 acres of public open space, plus a bonus of over 300 acres of open space within the Cunco property with restrictive open space covenants.

This 80-acre purchase turns the previous 50-acre Graham land deal with the baronial Canterbury developers into 130 acres of public open space property.

Noticeably not voting for the settling of the lawsuits and purchase was Trustee Donna Elson of Green Oaks. This clone of Graham obviously supports the Graham philosophy sue, sue sue . . . more legal fees to make lawyers rich—and no open space for the people of Libertyville Twp.

She, like Graham, is opposed to township open space land for the people of Libertyville Township.

Gurnee endures paralysis

Editor:

Lake County Board Chairman Norm Geary's letter to Mayor Welton dated Nov. 13, concerning the Lexington Development was quoted to read that "No major new development should be approved until the needs of the school are fully understood and the various methods for addressing those needs are fully studied." Welton replied, "We think this is a prescription for paralysis."

Gurnee is already developed into paralysis. The school system is already paralyzed, the traffic through Gurnee is paralyzed. The administration has built, and built and built in Gurnee, with little or no regard to the impact on infrastructure, schools, traffic and, yes, the environment. "Johnny did it, why can't I?" is no excuse.

Four feet of water was in the village three years ago. What did Mayor Welton do about it? Nothing! He kept building. Why is he so ready and willing to accommodate the continued building by the developers who forsake the people who had the water sitting in their basements. Trustees filled in the only possible flood water retention area just north of "Butchered Oaks" mini-mall at Washington St. and Rte. 21. It may have been legal, but certainly not moral. Mayor Welton can't, morally, pass on flooding problems to the rest of the county through the Lake County Storm Water Management Planning Committee.

I believe that the only major development that Gurnee can morally undertake is that of water retention and flood control around the DesPlaines River. Let's stop this greed and pay attention to the environmental needs. Why not be a good example and set the pace?

Love means gifts from the kitchen

Mom Likes To Cook
By Randee
Rlan-Dayhuff

One of the most inviting places for family and friends to gather during the holidays is the kitchen. Home-baked cookies and nut breads, jars of jams and marmalades and colorful hard candies are a few of the wonderful things that come to mind when we remember Christmases past.

What could be more special and personalized than a gift from you, from your kitchen?

Tangy Lemon-Nut Bread

Love this bread! A versatile quick bread I've used not only at holiday time for entertaining and giving; but also in a summer buffet salad bar, picnic-fare and as a light dessert served with icy sherbert.

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 lemon rind, grated
- 1 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup nuts, chopped

Glaze

- 1/4 cup sugar
- Juice of 1 lemon

Cream butter and sugar in large bowl. Add eggs and mix well. Stir in baking powder, salt, lemon rind and flour. Add milk and nuts, stirring to moisten the mixture. Let stand for 20 minutes. Pour into greased loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

Glaze: Mix the sugar and lemon juice; set aside. Pour over the warm bread and let cool. Slice and enjoy!

Herb Vinegars

Vinegars easily absorb other flavors. By heating them, adding herbs and allowing them to "infuse," you can create unique flavors. Save clear glass wine bottles, "old treasures," found in yard sales or glass cola "no-deposit" bottles. These make attractive vinegars sealed with corks and dipped in paraffin that has been melted in a double boiler. Herbed vinegars keep indefinitely and can be prepared days to weeks in advance.

- 2 cups vinegar (white, cider or wine)

Minced fresh herbs: tarragon, chives, dill, sage, rosemary, basil or marjoram.

Bring vinegar to a simmer, remove from heat and add 4 to 6 tablespoons herbs. Cover and allow to sit 4 to 5 days with occasional shaking. Strain into a clean bottle and add a fresh sprig of herb. Cork tightly and dip bottle neck in melted paraffin to seal. Label and store.

Be creative and experiment. Many green grocers carry fresh herbs all year around, so we can enjoy making flavored vinegars anytime. To use, be creative (that word again!) and use as you would any vinegar in salad dressings, sweet 'n sour dishes or marinades.

Festivity name of season

A festive home warmed with Christmas decorations means that a special holiday table is a must. Yuletide tablesetting entitled 'Christmas Splendor,' was triple prize winner at the Westosha BPW Scholarship Tablesetting held in Twin Lakes. Table was set with Christmas greens and all the color and tinsel that helps make the season merry. Elegant gold trimmed china, amber goblets and crimson napkins complete the holiday picture.

Spiced Orange Tea Mix

Tuck several packets of this comforting orange-cinnamon tea mix in a small basket with fruit and crackers. You could brighten many afternoons for an elderly uncle or aunt living in a retirement home.

- 1 cup powdered orange breakfast drink mix
- 1/2 cup instant tea
- 1/3 cup presweetened lemonade
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. ground cloves

Mix all ingredients. Store in tightly covered container. For each serving, place 2 to 3 teaspoons mix in cup. Fill with boiling apple cider, apple juice, cranberry juice cocktail or water; stir. For 6 servings (about 2/3 cup each), place 1/4 to 1/3 cup mix in heat-proof container; add 4 cups boiling liquid. Recipe makes about 1 2/3 to 2 cups of concentrate.

Homemade Microwave Lollipops

That's right—"Micro-Lollipops"!

What a treat for the children to see you create old-fashioned, brightly-colored Christmas candy. Wrap in plastic wrap to hang on trees as ornaments, decorations on gifts and, of course, eating.

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/4 tsp. orange, lemon or peppermint extract
- Food coloring

- 12 wooden Popsicle sticks or lollipop sticks
- 12 (9 oz.) wax-coated paper drinking cups

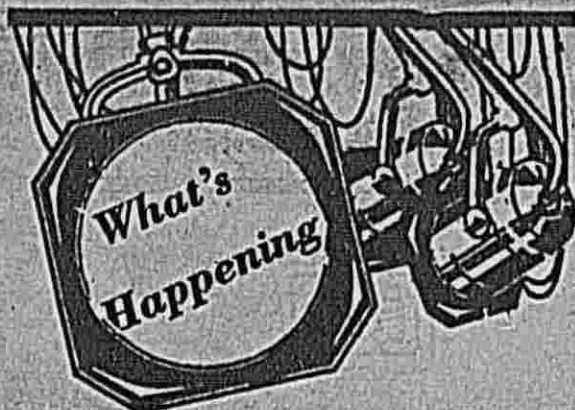

Prepare lollipop molds by cutting off a 1-inch top from 12 (9 Oz.) wax-coated paper drinking cups. Grease the inside of top portion of each cup. Punch small hole into the side of the mold; insert stick. Place molds on buttered foil to await the hot sugar mixture.

Mix sugar, corn syrup and water in 8-cup glass measuring cup. Use wet pastry brush to wash sugar crystals from sides of measuring cup. Insert microwave candy thermometer.

Microwave on high 9 to 12 1/2 minutes, or until mixture reaches 310 degrees Fahrenheit (hard crack stage), stirring every 2 minutes. Stir in desired extract and food coloring. Pour slightly cooled sugar mixture over sticks arranged on buttered foil. Let stand about 1 hour, or until hard.

Wrap in plastic wrap. Store in a cool, dry place. Makes 12 lollipops.

Andre's in Richmond announces another new theater season

Andre's Steakhouse in Richmond, has announced that its 1990 dinner/theatre season will open Jan. 6 with the comedy "Old Wine in a New Bottle" by Murray Schisgal, the author of "Luv".

The show will run weekends in January. The play will be followed in February by Neil Simon's classic comedy "Last of the Red Hot Lovers" and in March by Jack Sharkey's "Rich Is Better".

Once again, Rosebud Productions will be in charge of putting on these three audience appealing comedies. Producer/director Tom Hausman of Antioch marks the start of his third year at the helm of Rosebud. Hausman will also play the lead role in "Red Hot Lovers", a role he performed 13 years ago in Andre's first ever dinner/theatre production.

Two other original cast members will be joining him in this theatrical trip down memory lane, Lillian Allen of Trevor and Anne Marie Cina of McHenry.

Reservations are a must and can be made by calling (815) 678-2671. Dinner times are: 7 p.m. on Friday, 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, and 1:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Both single dinner/theatre and season passes are available and can be purchased by calling the reservation number. The theme of this year's season is "Put on a Happy Face". Andre's is located one fourth of a mile north of Rte. 173 on Rte. 12 in Richmond.

Orchestra slates program

The Chain O'Lakes Creative Arts will sponsor a performance of the Chain O'Lakes Orchestra on Sunday, Dec. 16, at 7:30 p.m. at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Rte. 134 Ingleside.

Included in the performance will be several classic Christmas pieces a traditional audience sing-a-long of carols.

Also there will be a performance of Madrigal singing and Renaissance dancing. Rounding out the concert will be Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

Tickets will be available at the door. Prices are $3; $2 for senior citizens and children 12 and under. For further information call Marilyn Lutz at (708) 587-7683.

This program is partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency, the National Endowment for the Arts, and the Lake County Arts Council.

Folk music celebrates

Two special concert/dance programs will celebrate 15 years of folk music programs at the David Adler Cultural Center. The programs will take place at 7:30 p.m., on Saturday, Jan. 6 and 20 at the American Legion Hall, 715 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

Each evening will begin with a two hour concert, highlighting a variety of folk music styles, and conclude with two hours of old time community dancing.

The concert will feature many of Illinois' top folk performers including: Art Thieme, Dan Keding, Shinobu Sato, Volo Bogtrotters, Phil Cooper, Margaret Nelson, Mark Dvorak, Jennifer Jeffries, Paul Goetz, Diane Ippel, Ride the rails to the slopes!

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

There are a couple of ways to get to Colorado's Winter Park ski resort.

You can fight the traffic to O'Hare Field, try and find a parking space, rush to check your skis, and run another two miles to your gate for the flight to Denver. At Denver, you claim your luggage and take a two-hour bus ride to the ski resort. Feel rested and ready to ski? Let's explore another way.

Last week, I took the 1:02 Metra train from Grayslake to Chicago's Union Station and walked about 100 feet to my Amtrak train to Winter Park, Colorado. A "Red Cap" took my luggage to my sleeping car. We left Chicago at 2:55 p.m. and arrived right at Winter Park the next morning, relaxed and ready to ski. Some members of my group were on the slopes within 45 minutes of arriving!

So you ask, wasn't that long train ride boring? Not on your life! As I mentioned, I did have sleeping accommodations. While you can sleep in a coach seat, I would recommend paying the extra money for a private room. Not only do you have a comfortable bed with meals included, but the little extras of being served coffee, juice and a newspaper in bed make my day.

You also have a whole train to "play" on. Your meals are prepared fresh on the train and served in a comfortable dining car. My favorite place was the sightseer lounge, rather than watching the movies (shown twice a day). I enjoyed looking out the large picture windows at the magnificent scenery. From Denver to Winter Park, we saw deer, mountain sheep and went through 29 tunnels—one over six miles long!

Next week, I'll report on what Winter Park has to offer and even why one of the mountains at Winter Park is named "Mary Jane."

Like the smell of a fresh-cut evergreen or the sound of tinkling bells in the distance, nothing heralds the arrival of the holiday season more than Charles Dicken's "A Christmas Carol."

Now in its 12th annual production of Chicago's Goodman Theater, the play is an amalgam of new and old faces reenacting the transformation of Ebenezer Scrooge from the world's greatest self-centered miser to a benevolent friend of mankind.

In a new adaptation by Tom Creamer, "A Christmas Carol" subtly highlights the line of demarcation between the haves and the have-nots, as when Mrs. Cratchite (Ora Jones) informs her husband that the family's silver candlesticks are taking a holiday at the pawnbroker's (so there would be enough cash to finance the Christmas feast).

William Norris returns for his 11th annual role as Scrooge, and he seems to improve each year. His hearty and uncontrollable laughter after a harrowing night of ghostly visitations that had him face to face with Christmas Past, Present and Yet to Come is worth the price of admission alone.

Starting with the opening selection of carols to the special track-mounted stage setting, "A Christmas Carol" is something special. This unique gift will be presented through Dec. 30.

Adler schedules holiday show

The More the Merrier, an ensemble featuring some of the Chicago area's finest folk performers, will perform two programs featuring songs of the season, at 7 and 8:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 16, at the David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

The program features traditional and contemporary holiday music from a variety of times and places, including music from Appalachia, New England, Ireland, Scotland, and England.

Using the sounds of the fiddle, banjo, mandolin, hammer dulcimer, guitar, piano, and voices, the ensemble weaves a tapestry of holiday images and emotions.

The More the Merrier includes the talents of Phil Cooper, Margaret Nelson, Paul Goetz, Chirps Smith, Fred Campeau and Michelle Thomas.

The 7 p.m. program, especially geared to families bringing young children, will be a shortened version of the 8:30 p.m. program, contain some children's material and offer a reduced admission.

Admission to the 7 p.m. concert is $4 for adults; $3 for seniors, Cultural Center members and children five to 15; and free for children four and under.

Admission to the 8:30 p.m. concert is $6

Why should you choose an emergency room before you need one?

Because all emergency rooms are not alike!

The emergency room at Saint Therese Medical Center is proud to be the only Level II Trauma Center in North Lake County. Level II is a special designation awarded by the State of Illinois to emergency rooms that meet a long list of rigorous standards.

One requirement is top qualified professionals. That's why our emergency room is fully staffed with trauma nurse specialists and the most board-certified emergency room specialists in the county. Plus, trauma surgeons and other specialists are on call 24 hours a day.

So, if one of life's emergencies occurs—big or small—you can be assured that Saint Therese is bound by the State to provide the highest level of care in the area—24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

And, to round out our emergency services, the Saint Therese Area Trauma Satellite on Rt. 59 at Rt. 132 in Lake Villa is open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., seven days a week.

Suspends license

LINDENHURST—For the second time in three years, Lindenhurst Mayor Robert Ratch has suspended the Lindenhurst Class E Liquor License held by Clark Oil & Refining Co., Rockford, for its gasoline station and convenience store at 2041 E. Grand Ave., Lindenhurst, for one month due to the sale of alcohol to a minor. Ratch, Lindenhurst liquor commissioner, said he was "unimpressed" with an explanation of the offense given by Clark Territorial Sales Manager Ken Huissen during a hearing held in Clark's defense. Huissen said the clerk arrested for the offense, James B. Edmondson, neglected to card the minor because he was a new employee and was busy. Ratch reminded Huissen that his company promised a vigorous training program would be instated after the August 1986 license suspension and fine of $500. Ratch said the next offense would result in a revocation of Clark's license.

Lights a hot item

WAUCONDA—The action of one anonymous Wauconda atheist and the outspoken leader of American Atheists, Inc., has turned white Christmas lights into the hottest commodity in town and has generated the largest celebration of Christmas in recent years. A survey of local stores turned up no boxes of white lights in Wauconda, and only limited supplies in surrounding communities.

Candidates file for spring election primary

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Filing for offices on the Tuesday, March 20, primary ballot began with a frenzy on the first day for doing so Dec. 11. Activity was fast and furious at the Lake County Clerk's office in Waukegan as more than 60 persons lined up to be first on the ballot.

One candidate from each party will advance from the primary to the November election. On that ballot will also be state offices ranging from governor to state representatives and senators.

More than 60 persons filed when the office opened at 8:30 a.m. All were regarded as filing simultaneously. Their names will be a lottery at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 21, to determine position.

Persons filing since the opening rush on Monday will appear on the ballot in the order of filing. This is expected to produce a rush of last-minute candidates before the deadline at 5 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 18. Along with the possibility in having their name appear in the last spot on the ballot—regarded almost as favorably as the top spot—they will benefit from the accompanying media coverage.

County offices on the spring primary ballot are one-half of the 24-member County Board, sheriff, clerk, treasurer and regional school superintendent.

Candidates changing their mind about running in the primary have until Jan. 18 to withdraw.

Here are the filings to date of Democrats (D) and Republicans (R):

Lake County Treasurer—Incumbent Jack "Red" Anderson (R) of Gurnee, who has held the office for 12 years and former sheriff candidate Sander Stagman (D) of Highland Park, a tax accountant.

Lake County Sheriff—Incumbent Clinton Grinnell (R) of Mundelein, former Libertyville chief of police, who has held office for almost three years.

Porter to run

DEERFIELD—Congressman John Porter (R-10th, IL) has formally announced his intention to run for reelection to the United States House of Representatives. Porter, who has served in Congress since 1980, has pledged to expand upon his record of "service to the people of the 10th Dist. and leadership in fighting for deficit reduction, human rights, the environment and other critical issues that face our country." He is a member of the House Appropriations Committee as well as three subcommittees.

Name Reardon

THIRD LAKE—The Village of Third Lake has a new trustee. Rick Reardon accepted the oath of office at the last village board meeting. Reardon, who works at the Board of Trade in Chicago, is a three-and-one-half year resident of the village, residing in Mariner's Cove portion. He assumes the term of former trustee Renell Jackson, who resigned. Jackson had won election as a write-in in April.

No tax bid

GAGES LAKE—Woodland Dist. 50 voters will not have to consider a referendum attempt in March, 1990. The board of education, citing the lack of time as well as no specific site, decided, instead to put its efforts into a November, 1990 vote. Taxpayers have rejected three tax hike tries by the Gages Lake district in a six month period. "The time is now," Woodland Dist. 50 Supt. Dr. Marlin Meyer said after the board discussed options for an hour. The board did vote to accept a scheme from Legat Architects, as explained by Wayne Machnick. The building program, expected to cost $14.9 million by November of 1990, will include the building of a new junior high for 750 students and a kindergarten section.

Tax rate drops

LAKE ZURICH—The Lake Zurich Village Board lowered tax rates further Monday when trustees voted to levy $100,000 less than originally planned. Trustees were forced to pass the tax levy again after the original levy was passed as a rate and not an actual levy amount, which could have led to legal problems. After consulting with Village Attorney Dennis Ryan, Finance Director Kent Olson and Village Administrator Ed Geick called a special meeting before Monday's regular board meeting.

Block grant

LAKE VILLA—Lake Villa Twp. has been awarded a $30,000 Year 16 Community Development Block Grant to continue alleviating flooding problems in the Fox Lake Hills subdivision. The grant, applied for by Trustee Ray Cox, was won for the fourth straight year. Currently, Year 15 Block Grant money is covering the cost of television monitoring of drain pipes in the subdivision, which is on the west side of Rte. 59. The results will show if a blockage is adding to flooding problems in the low-lying area on the west side of Rte. 59.

Power loss

ROUND LAKE—The entire Round Lake Area community, as well as parts of Grayslake, Lake Villa and Antioch had no electricity for approximately five minutes Monday because of "tripped relay" at Commonwealth Edison's Round Lake substation. Dist. Manager Ron Crawford said Edison crews had been working at the substation all last weekend, but weren't able to complete the work until Monday, which is when the incident occurred. Crawford said the electrical system is now working properly and that Edison apologizes for any inconvenience this mishap may have caused.

Fighting drugs

ANTIOCH—Antioch High School and the Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 have been joined by the Antioch, Lindenhurst and Lake Villa village boards, community organizations and parents in the fight against drug/alcohol abuse by minors. In admitting the problem, Antioch has implemented a program headed by Cathy Cratty who just received a $50,000 grant to fight such abuse.

Eye Central Range

GRAYSLAKE—Members of the Grayslake Plats and Subs Committee will be considering plans for development of the Central Range area Dec. 18. The meeting will be held at Grayslake Village Hall. The Grayslake Zoning Board of Appeals unanimously decided to pass a favorable recommendation to zoning requested by Lake Partners Venture.

Teen center in search of volunteers

Fox Lake Trustee Alberta Meyer has issued a plea for volunteer adult supervisors for the community teen center in the basement of the village hall.

"If we can't get some parents to supervise the center, we'll probably have to close it," Meyer asserted.

With the equipment donated by Lions Club members, the center opened when school started "to provide a place for teenagers to go." There is a pool table, electronic games and a soft drink machine.

Volunteers Needed

AARP/IRS Income Tax Assistance for the elderly is seeking volunteers in the Antioch, Lake Villa, Fox Lake, Round Lake and Wauconda areas.

County Board Dist. 6—(Wauconda, Fremont, Cuba and Ela Twp.) incumbent Bruce Hansen (R) of Deer Park, a Zion-Benton school teacher, who is completing his first term; John Reindl (R) of Mundelein, a dog kennel owner, who is completing his first term; 12-year Ela Twp. Sup. Robert Grever (R) of Lake Zurich; and Howard Bieze (R), a state mental health employee, who is head of the independent Wauconda Republican Twp. Assn.

Regional Supt. of Schools—Incumbent Sybil Yastrow (R) of Deerfield, who has been in office for 2-1/2 years and in the department 14 years.

County Board Dist. 1—(West Deerfield and Deerfield Twp.) Incumbent James Mitchell Jr. (R) of Highland Park, who is filling an appointive term; newcomer Edna Schade (R) of Deerfield, woman's affairs advocate for the governor's office; and former Highland Park Mayor Robert Buhai (D), owner of a furniture manufacturing business.

County Board Dist. 2—(Shields Twp.) Incumbent Matthew Miholic (R) of Highland Park, who has held office 13 years; Walter White (R) of Waukegan; former board member Stanley Pekol (D) of Waukegan, a building inspector; and Angelo Kyle (D) of Waukegan.

County Board Dist. 3—(Waukegan, Newport, Benton and Zion Twp.) Incumbent James LaBelle of Zion (R), manager of the new Lake Point Marina in Zion and board member for eight years; Bonnie Murphy (R) owner of a Zion restaurant; former board member Bertha Ogrin of Waukegan (D); and incumbent Samuel Payne (D) of Zion, who has been on the board for 17 years.

County Board Dist. 4—(Antioch, Lake Villa, Avon and Grant Twp.) Incumbent Charlotte Kiesgen (R) of Fox Lake, who has been on the board three years; and Robert Boness (R) of Round Lake Beach, a building inspector with the CTA in Chicago.

County Board Dist. 5—(Warren, Libertyville and Vernon Twp.) Incumbent Carol Calabrese (R) of Libertyville, who has been on the board four years; Vernon Hills Trustee Pam Newton (R), who has held that office for five years; and 28-year Warren Twp. Sup. Robert Depke (R), who served on the County Board and as chairman previously for more than one-dozen years.

Customer pleasers

Ave. at Winchester Rd., Libertyville Currency Exchange is the place to go for fast service on everyday business such as check cashing, vehicle registration, title transfers, and paying of utility bills.—Photo by Kim Bolton.

Casas offers fast, convenient service

Why are currency exchanges suddenly popping up all over the northwest suburbs?

"In a word—convenience," said Larry Casas, proprietor of the Libertyville Currency Exchange. "They fill a need—a need people have for fast turn-around on cash and a lot of other everyday services."

"You can also get a license for your boat or motorcycle here, even for your snowmobile," Casas said, "or a renewal sticker immediately or a transfer of title in no time at all."

But there's still more. "We have gun registration forms and can help high-risk drivers find auto insurance. We're also the stamps regularly. Casas explains: "Back when public aid checks and food stamps were mailed to each person's home they were subject to loss, and the state was called upon to make good on the losses. Now, currency exchanges across the state receive the checks and stamps and make sure they get into the hands of those they belong to. That simple change has saved the state millions."

To open a currency exchange in Illinois, an operator needs a clean bill of business health, sufficient working capital determined by the state and a state permit.

The state also sets the rates a currency exchange can charge and requires that those rates be posted in large print for everybody to see. "What that means," said Casas, "is that every customer knows—up front—what the service is going to cost him. There are no hidden surprises. What he pays for, really, is the fast service, the convenience. He doesn't have to maintain a minimum balance (like at a bank) or pay more for a can of corn to help cover a supermarket's bad-check losses."

Currency exchanges are also subject to periodic audits by the state. "If there's the slightest discrepancy," Casas said, "a warning is given and the audits become more frequent. Eventually, if they see fit, the state can take over a currency exchange, bar the owner from the premises and require him to sell. In this state, the public money we handle is well protected."

With rates regulated, the key to profitability for a currency exchange is volume—volume from both the locals and those who work in town but live elsewhere and don't have a ready source of cash. "For example," said Casas, "a little while back, several guys from an out-of-

"Where else can you go to cash a check, get a money order, send cash via Western Union to someone in a hurry, pay all your utility bills, stock up on postage stamps, rent a mailbox, send or receive a fax, or buy a motor club bond card—all in one stop?—Larry Casas, owner of Libertyville Currency Exchange.

Casas, who has been in a business for 20 years and also owns and operates currency exchanges in Wauconda and Chicago, says he chose Libertyville for his newest store because the entire area is growing and vibrant, but is stable at the same time. What's more, the services he offers appeal to people in all walks of life, especially those who need the convenience of the hours and location.

"Where else," he asks, "can you go to cash a check, get a money order, send cash via Western Union to someone in a hurry, pay all your utility bills, stock up on postage stamps, rent a mailbox, send or receive a fax, or buy a motor club bond card—all in one stop?"

But that's not all. "We also offer complete license service," Casas said, "which has become our second most popular service behind check cashing. When you consider that you can get a registration and new plates for your truck, trailer or car in as little as four days," he says, "you can understand why."

quickest source for self-employed or small businessmen who need cash in a hurry. And for those who have Visa or MasterCard and find themselves in a pinch, we're their source for ready cash.

"When you look at our entire service menu," Casas said, "there's not a lot in the way of immediate financial or everyday living help we don't offer."

It wasn't always that way. When they were first started in the early '30s, currency exchanges were almost exclusively check-cashing services. They flourished in Chicago, mainly because the state's ban on branch banking left the city woefully under-banked. At one time, nearly 90 percent of all currency exchanges in existence were registered in Illinois. In fact, banks have been known to refer people without accounts to currency exchanges.

In another facet of their business, currency exchanges help reduce the state's cost of doing business by helping public-aid recipients receive their checks and food

Will baby boom generation get to retire?

by NICK J. BROWN

With all the pressures to consume and maintain an appropriate lifestyle, save for children's college education, and live the good life, there is real concern whether the baby boom generation is in for a shock when they retire, as was expressed in a lead article in the Wall Street Journal.

Due to the lack of tax incentives to save, and the victory of consumption over savings and investment, the baby boom generation is leading a good life, but has an ominous future ahead at retirement.

The axiom used to be that you could retire on 60 percent of your final salary. However, with the built-in escalation in living costs and minimum standards of living that include a fine residence, two cars, annual vacations, electronic gadgets, and college educations for children, the retirement assets of these baby boomers 40- to 50-years old have been surely depleted.

Because of the rapid pace of mergers and acquisitions by public companies, many jobs have been eliminated, and thus the pensions that people had in those companies where pensions did exist have been lost. There are many pension plans being changed from a defined benefit plan, which promises a specific benefit or percentage of final pay at retirement, to a defined contribution plan which fixes the employer's contribution at a management and executive positions reaching age 55 to 60 with highly educated children in successful jobs. These educated children, successful in their chosen specific percentage of payroll.

A defined contribution plan, by its nature, has the benefit of investing in more speculative investments which can either grow or be subjected to market downturns, which is what happened in October of this year.

Deductible IRA contributions have been eliminated for all but a small percentage of middle management and rank and file employees. With that incentive gone, people have stopped putting that $2,000 per year for each working spouse into a savings plan. It is proposed that IRA or Keogh monies be allowed to be taken out tax-free to pay for college educations, and this benefit would further deplete those monies available at retirement.

We are seeing people in careers, have in the process depleted what was to be their parents' retirement funds.

In order to prevent this situation from happening to you, an immediate course of action would be the following:

1. Find out all you can about exactly what retirement benefits your employer provides.

2. If there is a 401(k) plan, take the maximum deferral allowed whether your employer provides matching funds or not.

David Hawkins

David E. Hawkins has been named vice-president of business management for Pitman-Moore, Inc. Hawkins is based at the company's corporate offices in Northbrook, and reports to Boyd Wainscott, executive vice-president.

3. If you have no retirement plan at work, make an IRA contribution for you and your wife. Even if the contribution is not deductible, the funds will still accumulate on a tax deferred basis.

4. See a financial planner or advisor to make concrete projections of what your retirement benefits will be owing to your current assets, retirement plans and social security benefits.

5. Hold your retirement funds back and do not deplete them for education or other emergencies, if possible.

By doing all of these, you can try to guarantee that you won't be part of that baby boom generation that will be working by necessity and not by choice after age 65.

Home buyers need 2 title policies

When you buy a house or condominium, your lawyer may suggest a homeowner's title insurance policy to protect against any title defects that could later affect your ability to exercise the property ownership rights you paid for.

"The relatively low cost of title insurance coverage makes sense to most buyers. But there can be some confusion when the buyer learns that a separate title policy will be purchased by the institution making the mortgage loan," says Alan N. Prince, senior vice president and Chicago Central Region manager for Chicago Title Insurance Co., the nation's leading insurer of property titles.

Buyer ask: "If the mortgage lender buys title insurance, why do I need a policy, too? Isn't one title policy enough?"

The answer is no, because to sets of interests are involved, Prince explains.

Prince says that title insurance insures the existence or non-existence of rights in real estate and pays the policy holder for any losses covered by the policy if the title company is later found to be wrong in its determination of those rights. A policy is issued following a search of public records to discover anything that might affect the title, such as unpaid taxes and assessments, judgments, federal tax liens, mechanic's liens and similar claims. The title policy also protects against "hidden" risks that cannot be discovered by examining public records, such as forgeries or future claims made by missing heirs or undisclosed spouses.

From the mortgage lender's standpoint, the interest to be protected is the lender's rights, also known as a mortgage lien. This constitutes the right of the lender to cause the property to be sold to pay the debt in case the owner defaults in the payment of the mortgage loan.

The coverage of the lender's policy is limited to the lender's interest in the property, which is the amount of the mortgage loan. Usually, this amount is less than the value of the property.

For example, on a $100,000 house, there may be a $90,000 mortgage. As the loan secured by the mortgage is reduced by installments payments, the amount of the lender's interest and coverage decreases. When the mortgage is completely paid up, the lender has no further interest, and title insurance has decreased to zero.

The owner, on the other hand, owns a large bundle of rights known as the fee simple title. These rights are far more extensive and permanent than are the rights of the mortgage lender.

The total value of the property (the ownership rights) normally increases over the years. In addition, as the owner pays off the mortgage, his or her equity in the property increases.

The owner thus needs title insurance to protect his or her interest, which is generally more valuable than the interest of the mortgage lender. What happens if the lender has title insurance and the owner doesn't, and something comes up to threaten the title?

"In that case, the lender's title insurance policy will protect the mortgage lender against any loss, including the cost of providing a legal defense, which might result from a determination that the validity and priority of the mortgage lien is other than as insured under the policy," Prince said.

But the owner would be unprotected. In addition, the owner would have to bear any cost of defending his title against the claim. On the other hand, if the owner has title insurance, the title company would pay all of the costs of defending the owner against the title as insured.

With the owner's title insurance, if a total failure of title was established, the title insurance company would pay the insured owner the value of the property up to the fact amount of the policy, as well as any legal costs incurred in the defense of the title. If no owner's policy has been issued to the current owner, the owner might lose his entire investment in the property, even though the lender had recovered whatever remained due on the mortgage from the title insurance company.

And even after losing title to his property, if the lender is underinsured, the owner could still be left owing an unpaid balance of the mortgage lien.

Prince says that the owner might also be faced with claims that would affect his use or the value of the property without affecting the lender's security interest.

For example, there might be an unreported right-of-way or easement across part of the land, or unreported building or use restrictions that would affect the value of the property but might not impair the lien of the mortgage interest.

In that case, there probably would be no claim under the lender's policy, but there might be one against the owner. Owner's title insurance will protect against such claims.

"For all of these reasons, two title policies are needed. What makes the question more agreeable to deal with is the relative low cost involved for the second policy," Prince says.

"When the mortgage policy and homeowner's policy are issued at the same time, which is normally the case, the cost of the second policy is minimal," he adds.

Abbott's Schoellhorn retires Convenient service

Robert A. Schoellhorn, chairman and chief executive officer of Abbott Laboratories, has announced that he plans to retire in August of 1990 at the age of 62. To effect an orderly transition, Duane L. Burnham will become vice-chairman and chief executive officer effective Jan. 1. Currently, Burnham is vice-chairman and chief financial officer. Schoellhorn will remain chairman of the board of directors until retirement.

Burnham, 47, joined Abbott in May,

1982, as senior vice president/finance and chief financial officer. In January, 1985, he was elected to the board of directors and promoted to executive vice-president, assuming responsibility for the company's

Ross Laboratories and corporate engineering divisions. He was elected vice-chairman in December, 1986. Prior to

town construction firm who are staying in town while the project lasts, got paid and needed the cash to take care of their living expenses. After a few phone calls I was able to cash their checks."

And that example, Casas says, brings to light another currency exchange benefit that's often overlooked. "We're good for the local merchants. To the extent that we can put cash in the pockets of out-of-town workers before they leave town," said Casas. "We promote spending here. Not always, but it certainly helps."

The Libertyville Currency Exchange is located in the Win-Mil Point shopping center just south of Winchester at 1043 N. Milwaukee Ave.

Donations saving lives

Baxter Healthcare Corporation of Deerfield, long a leader in community service worldwide, has extended its hand to save lives in record numbers right here in Chicagoland.

According to LifeSource, the state's largest blood center, Baxter's commitment to a safe and healthy blood supply encouraged 38.7 percent of its 9,151 northern Illinois employees to donate blood in 1989, a record in blood drive employee participation and in the sheer number of donations. In all, Baxter employees gave 3,543 pints of blood.

"That blood, that gift of life from Baxter employees," said Managing Director of Donor Services Susan B. Stuttle, "helped save the lives of more than 11,000 patients in our neighboring hospitals. It's a huge contribution to the good health of this community that we and Baxter can be proud of."

Baxter's commitment to the volunteer blood supply has grown in leaps and bounds in only a few years, according to Wilfred J. Lucas, Baxter's blood drive chairman and vice president, corporate affairs. Begun as a single blood drive held annually at the headquarters building in Deerfield, Baxter's employee semi-annual blood drives now encompass 16 locations in northern Illinois.

Leadership in recruitment and support for volunteer blood donations comes from Baxter's top management. In 1988, Chairman and CEO of Baxter Vernon R. Loucks sent a direct appeal to all employees citing one child's need for nearly 100 units of blood after the shooting at Hubbard Woods Elementary School in Winnetka.

"It's gratifying that so many people are involved," Wilbur H. Gantz, president of Baxter said after donating at an employee blood drive. "I'm proud that each of us who came to donate will go home at the end of day and say, 'I've done something that made a difference.'"

William Drevant

William Drevant, president of WRD Consulting, Libertyville, was elected chairman of the Illinois Savings and Loan Board at its November meeting. Board members are appointed by the governor.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

Mutual fund charges have long been a point of controversy. The fee that has gained the most attention is called the load. This is the fee an investor pays when he or she purchases a mutual fund. The amount of the load is based on the amount of the investment.

A fund that charges no fee at the time of purchase may charge a fee when the fund is sold, or it may charge an annual fee for management of the fund. This is called a no-load. To complicate things even more, some groups offer funds either way (PAUSE) pay now, or pay later.

To understand a fund's charges, read the prospectus. The mutual-fund page of most major newspapers should also explain how a fund charges.

Whichever fund you select, don't be led by the misconception that no-load means no cost. Over the long term, modest annual charges often add up to much more than a simple up-front load.

Small stocking stuffers enhance big ticket gifts

Looking for gifts that are not only fun, but practical this holiday season? What could be more ideal to stuff in the holiday sock than gifts that accompany those "big ticket" items received last year? Friends and family members who have computers, VCRs, camcorders, stereo systems and cameras always need a constant supply of accessories such as floppy disks, video cassettes, audio tapes and film.

There never seems to be enough film for that 35mm camera, and what holiday would be complete with pictures to document the occasion? A variety of films are available for different types of photography, so it's best to look for a brand name for good color and reproduction.

Another good stocking stuffer is a disposable camera, a perfect second camera—ideal for picture-taking in places you might not have snapped shots before (the ski slopes, a beach vacation) without the worry of damaging your regular 35mm camera. Lightweight, compact and easy enough for a five-year-old to use, this item is ready to shoot, right out of the wrapper, day or night.

'Tis the season to be musical with state-of-the-art audio cassettes that capture the sounds of the holiday, and song, all year-round. Contemporary and colorful packaging festively wraps new audio cassettes—ideal for every recording need, from professional-quality compact disc recording to making "mix" tapes from the radio or taping college lectures.

Recording home family movies has practically become a holiday tradition, reliant on one of the essential elements—the videocassette. From recording neighborhood carolers to traditional movies and television specials, high quality video-tapes—VHS, S-VHS, S-VHS-C, 8mm and Beta—meet all recording needs.

For the growing number of people who are computer owners, floppy disks are always a necessity. Take advantage of special holiday promotions for an even better buy.

Not every year can be a "big ticket" gift year. Whether you're planning ahead or shopping at the last minute, accessories are gifts that are sure to please everyone from the computer buff and audiophile to the video junkie and shutter bug.

Coupons provide savings

Shopping with coupons has gone beyond saving a few cents. Rising supermarket prices have made it a necessity, but have you ever wondered how profitable it can be? Shoppers who have "learned how" can get back most of their grocery money each month. If their grocery bill is $500 and they get back $450 in refunds, that's a nice little Christmas Club fund.

If you already shop with coupons you may just need a few tips to move into the Supershopper category, and by next Christmas it can be a profitable little business all your own.

Supershoppers do more than clip coupons. They know how to get coupons mailed to their door.

For more information, send a self-addressed, stamped (long) envelope to Consumer Services, P.O. Box 1264, Central Ave., Scarsdale, NY 10583.

Consider the ultimate gift this Christmas

by CAROLYN BARANOWSKI
Lakeland Newspapers

With the holidays fast approaching and with excellent interest rates for home mortgages, why not consider buying the ultimate Christmas gift—a new home?

Now is the perfect time to purchase the home you've been dreaming about. It's a wonderful market in Lake County whether you're a first-time buyer, need a larger home or are down sizing your living space. There are a variety of homes to choose from in every style, location, size and price range. The appreciation of homes in the area has grown by leaps and bounds during the past several years and with development continuing as it has in the areas outside Chicago, home values will continue to increase.

Home ownership is the single, most important, most valuable investment in the American family's lifetime—it's a privilege everyone should find a way to exercise.

A low percentage of the public has incorrect information regarding affordability. Realizing the multitude of homes now for sale leads one to believe the average renter doesn't have the answer. The purpose of this article is to hopefully spark your interest to find out!

Presently, the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) offers home mortgage requiring only three percent down. The Veterans Administration (VA) offers homes to qualified vets with no down payment and minimal closing costs. There are also excellent conventional and single-digit adjustable mortgages.

Who knows how long low interest rates will be available? In our presently strong economy, it's anybody's guess. History shows that situations can happen quite suddenly to cause changes that can skyrocket interest rates.

In the early 1980s, interest on VA loans was 15 percent and often the seller had to pay points for the buyer's mortgage. Quite a change from then to now! Excellent rates in a stable market don't last forever. Somewhere down the road, history will repeat itself again. So why wait?

Those who don't currently own a home should first consider buying, research the market and compare their current rent with the monthly payments and tax breaks a home would offer. Don't be one of the vast portions of the public who, once interest rates go back up, will be saying,

"I should have..."

Home ownership, the American dream and Lake County are all exciting. Right now the market is exciting. It is time to jump on the bandwagon and be a part of it before the spring market spurs prices even higher.

Do yourself a big favor by calling a lender now to find out how you qualify. Once you do, you and your family will be sure to have a very happy holiday.

For dazzling hair in minutes

THE MYRIAD OF HOLIDAY FESTIVITIES calls for glamorous hair styles, sometimes on short notice. Fashion Plates from Conair can help create stunning beauty salon styles at home in minutes! Featuring three interchangeable styling plates, Fashion Plates can crimp, wave or straighten hair easily and quickly. By changing the lightweight plate of the styling iron, you can achieve a completely different look in no time at all.

How to "put on the glitz"

It's holiday time, and everything takes on a special, radiant glow. This is the season to be daring, to experiment with a host of new looks.

Be dramatic if you wish, glamorous and glittering if you dare, or elegant and sophisticated if you prefer.

Here are some high-spirited beauty tips and makeup techniques:

- The spotlight is on eyes—give yours impact by applying a flash of gold mascara on tips of lashes (over a couple of coats of black or brown).

- Frame your glittering eyes by brushing gold mascara into brows. Brush upward—mascara sets, controls and colors at the same time.

- Paler skin is in for nighttime glamour. Give your face sheer, moonlit radiance with soft pink Dazzle Dust. Puff powder on cheeks, forehead, collarbone, décolletage, bare back (terrific for those off-the-shoulder fashions).

- Spark up your nail color with a high frost color such as Bronze Star or Violet Glimmer from Avon's "Putting on the Glitz" collection.

- Jazz up your hair with temporary hair coloring gels. These tints add highlights or glamorous shimmer to any hair color and can be shampooed out when the party's over.

- Transform a simple dress into a dazzler with holiday accent jewelry. Emeralds, rhinestones and gold add festive glitter to a basic black dress.

- Bows aren't only for gifts under the tree. Wear them on your hair and as jewelry. The latest Kenneth Jay Lane for Avon design features Bow Earrings and a Bow "clip-on" enhancer for your pearls.

- Make yourself feel extra special by wearing a new fragrance. For evening allure, try a fragrance such as Avon's Breathless.

- Top off a manicure with a five-carat look-alike diamond or sapphire.

Remember, it's easy to add your own razzle-dazzle to the holidays. Be confident. Have fun. And, for the most special personal holiday look of all, let your personal style be your guide.

The ultimate in leather

Harley-Davidson, the American motorcycle legend that made leather motorcycle jackets a distinctive American classic, has taken its reputation for first-quality leathers to the highest plane.

Its "Christmas Collection" of limited edition, high-fashion leather jackets couples contemporary styling with traditional Harley features to create a new look that's equally at home in business and social settings. And they're just in time for holiday gift-giving.

Men are sure to love the casual good looks of the leather sportcoat, whether with a turtleneck and jeans or slacks and a tie.

Designer-styled luxe furs

TWENTY-FOUR-HOUR FUR Fashion. Tie-on the casual elegance of a bathrobe-styled fur coat. It works all day with business or sports attire. At night, it goes everywhere, whether you're dressing up or down. Three to choose from (Clockwise from left): Luxurious in Natural Russian golden sable designed by Louis Dell'Ollo for Anne Klein for Michael Forrest Furs; dramatic in an ivory broadtail with Golden Island fox oversized collar and cuffs by Givenchy for Laurence Kaye Furs; sophisticated in a notched-collar Canadian fisher coat by Arnold Scana from his inaugural collection for Mohl Fur Co.

Dear Santa,
My name is Virginia. My suggestions for my gifts is on the back. I asked my daddy what he wanted for Christmas. He said the Moon (that's a toughie!) I also asked my Mommy and she said, a more flexible JOB. Work, when ever she wants. The chance to meet new peoples and learn about computers, etc.
I'm stumped about Mommy. Do you have any suggestions?

PORTER

Whatever the season of the year, the Porter is a home that will never be dark inside. And its huge living room, family room and wide wrap-around deck make it a natural for home entertaining.

Double tiers of windows along the back wall flood the lofty living room, vaulted to the ceiling, with natural light. The family room is just as big (plenty of room for a pool table, large-screen television, or whatever) and nearly as bright. It has an all-glass pre-fabricated solarium on one side, sliding glass doors and several more windows on another.

Firelight adds yet another dimension. During the colder months, the Porter takes on the ambiance of an exclusive ski lodge, with large crackling fires in the living room and family room, and a smaller, cozier fire in the master suite. In summer, yet a fourth flue in the wide chimney is put to use as an outlet for smoke from the built-in barbecue, outside on the rear deck.

The kitchen is every bit as bright as the other shared living areas. Windows line a large bay, creating a sunny custom-shaped eating nook. The eating bar which separates the kitchen from the dining room, doubles as a buffet area for formal dining. Built-in utilities are nearby in a room that's also large enough to accommodate a freezer and utility tub.

At the top of the stairs to the second floor, a wide landing overlooks the living room. Family members can't help but curl up in easy chairs here to catch up on their reading.

In addition to its fireplace, the master suite has a double walk-in closet, compartmentalized shower and toilet, a spa, and double vanities. Twin bedrooms at the opposite end of the upper floor share a second double vanity, also outside of the water closet.

For a study plan of the PORTER (209-34), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Joyce Jillson

Weekly Tip: The holiday pace picks up; do as much as you can without getting frantic. Avoid being overly optimistic in business matters. Parties are memorable. Aries (March 21-April 19) Get along with relatives this week; they could save your life. By week's end you're at your best at work.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) This week you've got money on your mind. Reward yourself; spend on pleasure. Gemini (May 21-June 21) Build family unity on Wednesday and Thursday. Feelings count. Friday lightens your emotional load.

Cancer (June 22-July 22) Greater job security now, and financial lurches pay off. Use the weekend to shop for the kids.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) Your friendships could be tested this week. Because you have emotional stamina, others may lean on you.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A bonus may come this week. Be conscious of your public image. Get ready for a romantic weekend.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You may hear from someone you thought had forgotten you. The weekend finds you ready to party.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) Joint financial matters continue to flourish. This weekend find it easy for you to make social conquests.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Partners help take some of the load off you early this week. Week's end is perfect for taking that short vacation you need.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Work offers lots of variety this week. Heed your partner's advice. Events Friday boost your spirits.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Love gets complicated, perhaps due to duplicity on your part. Reach out to others to win them over.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20) You have a sixth sense about relationships. Get out this weekend and start some holiday celebrating.

If You Were Born This Week: Expect an increase in health and vitality this year. Start planning your financial future, and be ready for a relationship that combines business and pleasure.

Plats, subs to consider Central Range plans

Members of the Grayslake Plats and Subs Committee will be considering plans for development of the Central Range area Dec. 18.

The meeting will be held at Grayslake Village Hall.

The Grayslake Zoning Board of Appeals unanimously decided to pass a favorable recommendation to zoning requested by Lake Partners Venture.

The development comes after a court settlement in 1986 which ended the five-year Heartland discussion of the property. Round Lake Beach annexed the land in 1981 and that action was challenged in court by Grayslake and Lake County.

Zoning encompasses the Lake County zoning into Grayslake ordinances. The zoning requested includes: Neighborhood conservation-general industrial; neighborhood conservation-suburban estate; neighborhood conservation-urban residential and neighborhood conservation-light industrial.

David Reitman, an attorney representing Lake Properties Venture, said the zoning requests are limited to the settlement agreement.

The general industry area would be a 300 foot strip off the railroad tracks.

Development plans call for 300 units in the Central Range portion on 40,00 square foot lots.

Allen Kracower, planner, said the plans for the extension of Rte. 53 could affect the development. He also noted the ARF landfill will also have an effect on the property south of Grayslake.

"There are a lot of limiting kinds of factors," he said.

"We have to treat this as though the highway will go through," ZBA Chairman Jim Repp said.

He added annexation of the property could give the village leverage in dealing with the state regarding Rte. 53 plans.

"The highway could be a big problem for you and us," ZBA member Carl Miller said.

Some 342 students are expected to be generated by the development of the land, attending Fremont Dist. 79, Grayslake Community High School, Mundelein High School and Grayslake Dist. 46.

"I don't think any of us is looking for a smoke-stack industry," ZBA member Pat Anderson said.

Resident Bill Foley asked what kinds of uses could be in the industrial strip.

Grayslake Village Manager Mike Ellis said any changes suggested by any party in the agreement must be approved by all three.

Increased budget calls for boating fee hike

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

If the first public hearing on proposed Chain O' Lakes boating fees for 1990 was any indication, the second and final hearing will be a rousing session.

The final hearing being conducted by the Chain O' Lakes-Fox River Water Management Agency is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 20, at Johnsburg High School.

An increase in boating fees is being considered to make up an estimated $125,000 to $150,000 increase in the budget.

Chairman John Soffiatti said directors of the non-tax supported agency will decide after all public opinion has been evaluated.

Comments, mostly critical, covered a wide range of topics at the first hearing held at Grant Township, ranging from not enough dredging, dredging in the wrong places, lowering the lake level too much to paying Exec. Dir. Al Moltrum an excessive salary.

The barrage of complaints prompted Ken Anderson of Round Hill Subdivision, Fox Lake, to come to the rescue of the agency which covers both sides of the Fox River from the state line to a point south of the McHenry Dam.

"I'm sick and tired of all the short-sightedness. If it's not happening in front of my house, there are complaints," Anderson told the hostile audience of more than 100 boaters, fisherman and duck hunters.

Chuck Haling of Antioch, whose family has operated Chain resorts for nearly 75 years, accused the agency of "pork barrelling," pointing out that fee income exceeded the current budget by $7,576.

Kenneth Meyer of Ingle-side said the agency dredge, purchased from the state for $1 "has moved one mile in three years."

Meyer pointed out that the budget for 1989-90 provides for a 37-percent increase in general and administrative expenses.

In response to criticism that dredging started in the wrong place, Soffiatti said main navigation channels will be handled first. "We'll open mouths to the channels as they come," Soffiatti remarked.

Things became so tense at one point that director Bud Scott of Lake Villa volunteered to escort an angry citizen out of the meeting room.

During the business portion of the meeting, Soffiatti broke a 2-2 tie to defeat publication by the agency of a waterways map. It was announced that the agency accident investigation boat, donated by OMC Corp., is ready to outfit with sophisticated electronics equipment.

The map plan was supported by Darrell Baker and George Thompson, both of McHenry County, and opposed by Scott and Roy Gundelach, who represent Lake County.

Family Services

Central Baptist Family Services annual Christmas party will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 19, at 6:30 p.m. on the grounds of the agency on Rte. 83, Lake Villa.

Woodland staffers may smoke in some areas

Woodland Dist. 50 staff members will have a place to smoke in 1990.

The board of education voted 4-3 to allow places in all three buildings for smoking. Board members Jaye Margeson, Connie Hoth, James Nylor and Jerry Hinckley voted to allow the area. Board members Maragret Breitzman, Catherine Osborne and Michael Brenner voted no.

"I don't smoke, but I believe people should have a place to smoke," Hoth said.

One board member questioned what kind of an example is being set when the Woodland Elementary School Fred Becker students can smell smoke.

Woodland Elementary School Principal Fred Becker said two or three teachers smoke on his staff, junior high principal Don Bradley said four smoke on his staff and at the intermediate school, principal Bart Eiduke said eight to 10 smoke.

Becker informed his staff of the possible smoke-free building decision and said no one objected.

In other business, the board adopted a new tax levy. The board is anticipating a 35.13 percent increase in the equalized assessed valuation. The actual amount of tax revenue received depends on the actual assessed valuation which will not be known until March or April, 1990.

Meyer told the board the committee of developers had estimated an EAV of $287,020,000 is a $68,001,110 increase over last year or 31 percent.

Since the last meeting, Warren Twp. Assessor Joe Dada had told a group of Warren Twp. taxing bodies that the increase for the Warren Twp. would be 15 percent. Woodland covers parts of Lake Villa and Avon Twp.

"The developers' projections were pretty optimistic," Meyer said.

In personnel matters, the board accepted the resignation of Shirley E. Werner. Werner, a Woodland teacher since 1970, is taking an early retirement.

LMV Chamber chief signs books

Martin Blank, president of the Libertyville-Mundelein Vernon Hills (LMV) Chamber of Commerce, will sign copies of his murder mystery novel, "Shadowchase," from noon to 3 p.m. Saturday, Dec.

19 in Krochs and Brentano's bookstore in Hawthorn Center, Vernon Hills.

"Shadowchase," a hardcover book published by St. Martin's Press, New York, is Blank's first novel.

Blank resides with his wife in Mundelein.

Grad. Update

Antioch Community High School graduate Michelle Pavelski is a 5-10 junior forward for the Aurora University women's basketball team. Pavelski is a resident of Lake Villa. Aurora is coached by Brenda Hillman, in her third season. Aurora's next home game is Jan. 6 against Knox College. The NCAA Division III school competes in the Northern Illinois Intercollegiate Conference.

Jason Aker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Aker of Lake Villa, earned a football letter at Waterburg College in Waverly, Iowa.

Lake Zurich High graduate Marilyn Peterson is playing for the women's basketball team at Elmhurst College. The team opened the season with losses to the University of Chicago 56-52 and Augustana.

At Augustana, Lake Zurich graduate Tom Jesse, a 6-7, 210 pound forward, has come off the bench to average 1.5 points and 2.8 rebounds. He has two assists and two steals for the Vikings, 2-2 through four games.

At Lake Forest College, Steve Pape, a linebacker and a senior from Mundelein, was named to the Midwest Collegiate All-Conference team as well as fellow Mundelein resident Jim Huster, who was selected honorable mention. Pape is son of Elaine and Vince Pape while Huster is son of Rosann and Gregg Huster.

Huster, a Carmel High graduate, was named to the Midwest Collegiate Conference North Division team as a defensive back.

Michael May, a Mundelein High graduate and sophomore defensive back, contributed an interception against Lawrence that preserved Lake Forest's 6-0 win.

Don Bendery, son of Patricia and Donald Bendry of Wildwood, was a freshman linebacker for the Foresters. He is a graduate of Warren Twp. High School.

John Carr, son of Robert Carr, is a four-year running back and receiver and Mundelein High graduate. A Grayslake resident, he had nine catches this season for 140 yards for the 3-6 LFC.

At Lewis University, Jay Retzinger of Mundelein scored 10 points in a 74-71 loss to University of Wisconsin-Parkside. Lewis is 4-1 through five games.

At University of Wisconsin-Whitewater, Ken Woodard, a graduate of Warren-Twp. High School earned a letter as a fullback and North Chicago graduate Jeff Patterson earned a letter as a quarterback. Patterson won the Frosh MVP Award.

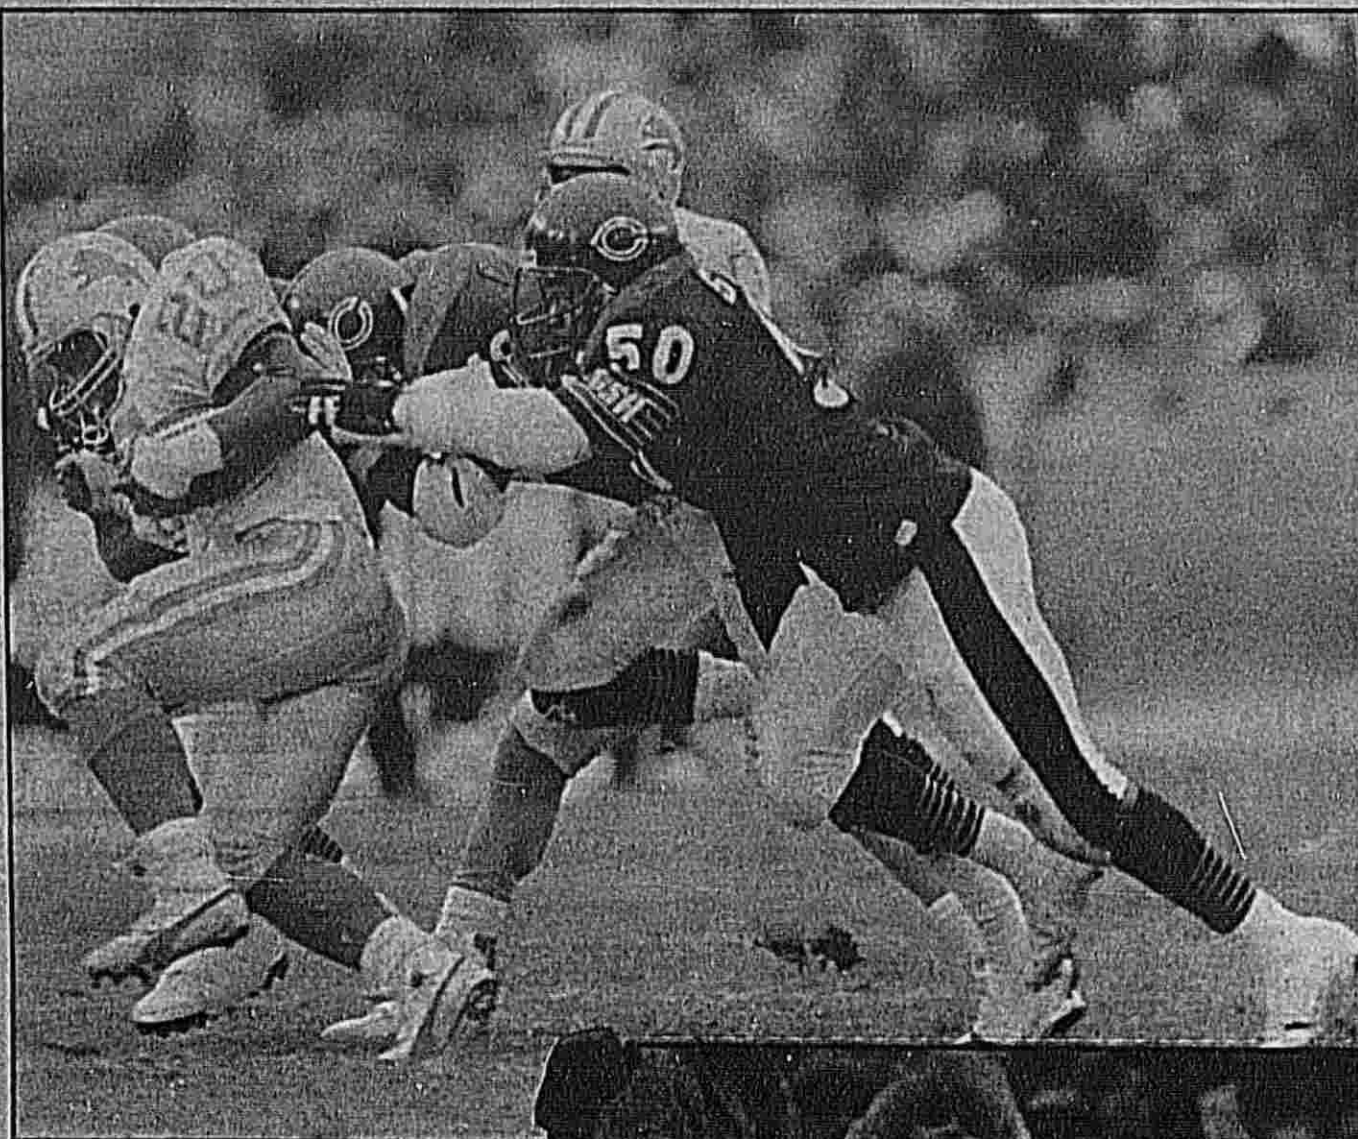

At Dakota Wesleyan University, Chris Tavajian, a Warren Twp. High School graduate, played football for the Tigers. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kathy Tavajian of Wildwood.

Knights tourney nears

The tournament committee of the Knights of Columbus Precious Blood Council 9689 of Grayslake's fourth annual Mid-Season Lake County Basketball and Cheerleading Championships will begin Dec. 16.

Schools from Lake, McHenry and Cook County will participate in the games at the College of Lake County in Grayslake.

Tournament is based around the Keith Ryan Pride and School Spirit Award. This award, a three-and-one-half foot trophy honoring the late legendary Lake County sportscaster, will be presented to the school that exemplifies the highest extreme of moral and ethical character of teams, cheerleaders and fans, during the tourney.

Schanaberger juggles two sports

By BRENT KILLACEY
Lakeland Newspapers

High school athletics develops an athlete that can perform in a multitude of sports. Whether it be a football, wrestling combination or a soccer, softball combination, today's prep athletes are conditioned to perform at their peak.

But what about the unsightly combination of girl's gymnastics and cheerleading?

For Carmel student Sandi Schanaberger, senior, it's no problem. In fact, she has been participating in gymnastics for two years and in cheerleading for three.

Schanaberger is the captain of the cheerleading squad this year. Since there is technically no cheerleading coach at Carmel, only a moderator, Schanaberger's position holds a great deal of responsibility.

But she is a little frightened of this leadership position. "I don't want to yell at anyone because I don't want them to hate me," Schanaberger said.

In the end, however, captainship of the squad is an invaluable learning experience. "It's helping me to be a better leader," she said.

Carmel cheerleading tryouts are held the year before. For this reason there are no freshmen on the squad.

"Not as many people tried out as in past years," Schanaberger said.

Out of the 25-30 girls that tried out, only 10 made the cheerleading squad. Those trying out were judged and then the top scorers are selected.

"We don't have a set number of people to be on the squad," Schanaberger said. The biggest gap in judged scores primarily decides the size of the following year's squad.

There are several requirements for being in cheerleading: payment of a $55 fee (covering uniform costs), attendance of the practices, and attendance of a summer cheerleading camp. Schanaberger calls the camp "the best part" of cheerleading.

Along with several other different high school squads, Carmel cheerleaders spent four days at Rockford College learning about cheerleading techniques.

"Camp is a lot of fun," Schanaberger said. "We learn a lot and become closer to the other people on our squad."

Schanaberger was one of the recipients of the All-Star Cheerleading awards given at the nationwide string of camps. Only two percent of the camps' participants receive the award.

"It was great," she said. The award also gave Schanaberger the opportunity to fly out to London and participate in the Lord Mayor of Westminster New Year's parade. "But I couldn't go because it was too expensive," she said, adding that it would cost more than $2,000.

Besides her achievements in cheerleading, Schanaberger is also doing well on the gymnastics team.

After two tri-meets, one with Libertyville and Antioch, and the other with Lake Zurich and Crystal Lake, Carmel is 2-2. In both meets, Carmel took second place.

Even though Carmel's gymnastic's team has only four members on the varsity level, Schanaberger is still optimistic.

"I think we are going to do really good this year," she said.

A small team will be a disadvantage, because in a meet, the top four individual scores are taken for the team's score.

Carmel faces ESCC powerhouse

"They're as good as ever, if not better," Carmel boys basketball Coach Scott Rosberg said of the Corsairs next foe.

Carmel hosts East Suburban Catholic Conference power St. Joseph in a 7:30 p.m. game Dec. 15 in Mundelein.

The Corsairs are coming off a strong showing in a 66-44 win over Holy Cross. A 21-11 start paved the way.

"Eric Maloney and Chris Mohr got off to a great start," Rosberg said.

Mohr scored nine of his 17 points in the first eight minutes and Maloney had eight of his 14 points.

"We just executed a little better and made that extra pass," Rosberg said.

The Corsairs improved to 3-3, 1-2 with the road win.

Carmel had fallen 73-49 at Marist Friday.

CLC will battle DuPage

College of Lake County's basketball teams will both travel to DuPage for non-conference games Dec. 16, but both will be hard-pressed to top some exciting games of late.

The CLC men needed and received a clutch shot from Greg Green to top Harper 77-76 in Palatine. Green's shot came with 1:10 left. The basket gave the Lancers a 77-73 lead.

Corey Statham led CLC with 25 points and had six rebounds. Green had 23 points and nine assists for CLC, which improved to 5-4 overall.

Al Davis had seven points but was a force in the middle with 12 rebounds. John Anderson, was the Lancers' top gun from the outside, making four of six from the three-point area.

For the women's team, the Lancers played Rock Valley tough but lost 45-44. Crystal Payne had 22 points, her best game to date.

Teri Huntington, as she had the first five game of the season, was the leading rebounder with 12.

CLC then found it rough going against Highland as the Freeport team dominated 85-59. Huntington and Payne both had 17 points for CLC, now 1-4.

The Lancers are led in scoring by Huntington, who has 19.8 points per game. The Warren graduate has made 36 of 60 field goals and 76 percent of her free throws. Huntington is the leader in rebounding with 14.6 a game.

Payne is the next highest scorer with 16 points a game.

Following the DuPage games, the Lancer men compete at the Highland tournament Dec. 22-23.

The women host Kaskaskia Dec. 17 at 1 p.m. before taking a break for Christmas. The next contest will be a home game Jan. 4 against Harper.

Bears aiming to hold leads against 'Canes

If the Lake Zurich boys basketball team opens up a 20 point lead on Marian Central Friday night, Bears fans are advised not to leave early.

That's because that could be just when things get interesting.

Such was the case last week at Grant, where the Bears had to overcome an 18-point blitz from the Bulldogs to win 62-57.

The Bears' win was their third straight and the team has reached .500 quickly after losing the first three games at the Mundelein tournament.

"That was a crucial factor, too. We did not match up well with him. He singlehandedly carried them in spurts. He put on a real display. He did a nice job,"

Grant Coach Tom Maple said of Jack Denny.

Denny scored 17 points for the Bears and Eric Kraus 19 in the Northwest Suburban Conference win. Denny, an 80 percent free-throw shooter, hit two free throws with eight seconds left which iced the win.

"We did not have the intensity (at Mundelein). We came out against week against Marengo, the first home game, we came out after them and that's what we did. Against Cary-Grove we survived," Denny said.

Denny, a senior, was a consistent scorer last year but the Bears had only seven wins to show for their efforts.

"It's more of a team effort," Denny said, pointing out contributions of Kraus, guard Jeff Anderson and Steve Knipp.

For Knipp, a junior, the game was somewhat of a homecoming, as he was a wrestler at Grant.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: I'm having trouble seeing straight ahead when driving or reading. What does this mean?

ANSWER: Sometimes the tissues in the back of the eye where light focuses start to break down or thin out. In other cases, fragile blood vessels form behind the tissues and begin to leak causing them to swell. These tissues are known as the macula, thus the condition is called macular degeneration.

When these conditions occur, you begin to lose your straight ahead vision and may also have trouble seeing colors. It happens slowly and at a separate pace in each eye. The good eye compensates for the weaker eye so the problem may not be noticed immediately.

There is no treatment for people with worn macular, but laser surgery can help correct problems related to blood vessels and halt further vision loss or in some cases restore vision.

A key to diagnosing macular degeneration is regular visits to an ophthalmologist or an immediate visit when straight ahead or color vision problems are first noticed.

County group formed to preserve resources

Promoting the protection of sensitive natural areas with a special emphasis on streams and drainageways is the main focus of the newly created Land Conservancy of Lake County group.

Based in Lake Villa, the group consists of approximately 15 members, of which five are on its board of directors including: Karen and Randy Stowe of Harvard, secretary and vice president respectively; Jeff Koziel of Lake Villa, treasurer; Carroll Schall of Grayslake, vice president; and Donna Haskins of Mundelein, president.

Goals of the organization will be achieved by encouraging land protection strategies such as conservation easements, deed restrictions and acquisition through either donation or purchase. "Basically, we're a non-profit organization which negotiates for large and small parcels of land, preferably by donation. We want to keep and preserve whatever natural areas that we still have," said Haskins.

In addition, land stewardship will be promoted through educational outreach programs such as workshops and dissemination of information.

Haskins added, "As a neutral third party the organization can inform landowners, developers and public officials of the presence of important natural resources and the options for their protection."

The group can offer tax incentives to those wishing to donate money, services or an interest in property. William C. Kling, corporation counsel, of Robbins, Schwartz, Nichols, Lifton and Taylor, stated that "the non-profit status will give the organization a solid foundation. Environmental groups that lack it are usually less successful and permanent."

The Conservancy is planning a major fund raiser and membership drive for next spring. Those individuals wishing to donate or to become a member of the group should call (708) 949-7146 or write to the Land Conservancy of Lake County at Box 293, Lake Villa, IL, 60046.

The Conservancy meets on the fourth Monday of each month at 6:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau Building off Rte. 45 in Grayslake.

County Fair Assn. elects new officers

The Lake County Fair Assn. held its annual meeting at the Lake County Fairgrounds with 84 voting members present along with numerous guests. The following were elected to a three-year term of office on the board, by unanimous ballot: Walter Krumrey, Grayslake; Burnell Russell, Round Lake; and Harry Dahms of Antioch.

At a Board of Directors meeting held on the following Monday evening, elections were held to determine the officers of the Lake County Fair Board.

The following were elected for the year 1990: President Harry Dahms, Vice President Eugene Kulin, Secretary John McNeill and Treasurer Walter Krumrey.

Two special awards of recognition were given to past retired directors: Earl Pegelow and Richard Lencioni for all of their years of service and dedication to the Lake County Fair Assn.

NICASA names directors

The Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA) has announced the election of seven new board of director members at its 23rd annual meeting held Nov. 14. "We are very thrilled with the specialized skills these new members will bring to our efforts at fighting the war on drugs," stated Judy H. Fried, executive director of NICASA.

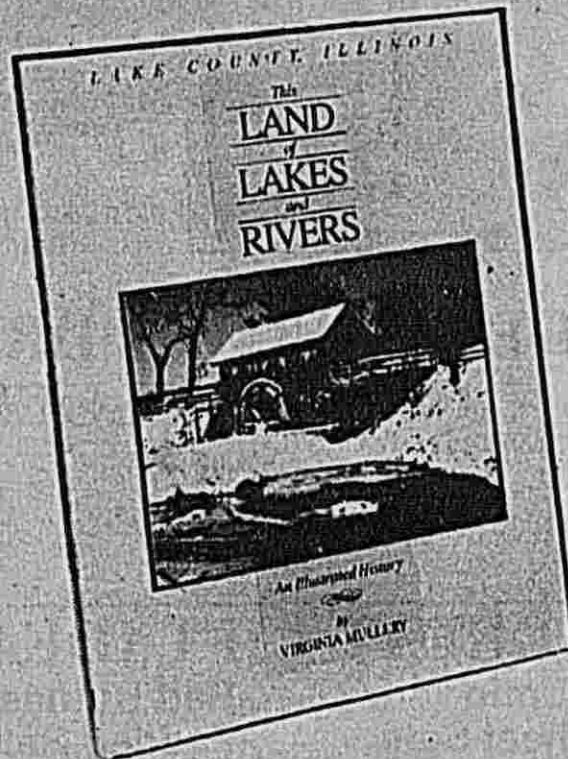

The new members are: John K. O'Loughlin, senior executive vice president from Allstate Insurance Corporation; Chief George Bridges, chief of police for the Waukegan Police Dept.; Marshall I. Smith, associate general counsel at Baxter Healthcare Corporation; Ed Sindles, deputy superintendent of operation for Lake County Sheriff's Dept.; Jack Scholz, retired director of management and real estate at Abbott Laboratories; Joan Sabatino, special projects manager at MacLean-Fogg; and Leah Melnik, Ph.D., project coordinator for Lake County Education Service Center.

Also elected were the officers for 1990. The officers for 1990 are: Chairman James S. Kemper III (Kemper Group); President David Amory (Johnson & Higgins); Vice President Kenneth W. Farmer (Abbott Laboratories); Treasurer, Marshall I. Smith (Baxter Healthcare Corporation); and Secretary, Mary Ainslie (Alcohol and Drug Abuse Program Manager at Fort Sheridan).

Craig Bernard of Bernard Automobiles received special recognition for outstanding fundraising as a result of choosing NICASA as recipient charity of the 18th Annual Ray Bernard Charity Golf Open.

Master Gardeners

The University of Illinois Extension Service is recruiting candidates for training as Master Gardeners for the 1990 gardening year. Master Gardeners are people willing to volunteer 30 hours of their time to answer gardening questions at the Lake County Cooperative Extension Office, talk to garden groups and act as their neighborhood gardening expert. Candidates receive 45 hours of training presented by University of Illinois horticulturists in just about every topic of interest to gardeners. Training starts Jan. 12 and meets for nine classes. For more information on the program and for an application, call the Lake County CES office at (708) 223-8627.
